DROP CIRCULARS
Birthday of Former President
Celebrated by Attention to Sea Defense.

Chicago.—The day was celebrated throughout the country today, the date of the birth of former President Theodore Roosevelt, in an effort to excite the interest of the people in their first arm of defense.

Through the middle-west, airplane bombardments were planned on the important cities by planes flying in pairs and dropping literature telling of the objects of the celebration and something of the navy's work.

Two planes are to fly from Minneapolis, covering the cities of St. Paul, Milwaukee and Chicago. Another pair of aircraft are to leave Omaha and distribute circulars over Denver, Portland, Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Dayton, while a third pair will circle over Moundsville, Louisville, St. Louis and Kansas City.

Circulars dropped from the planes carry parts of President Coolidge's proclamation and statements from Secretary of States Hughes, and Herbert Hoover.

The interest displayed by President Roosevelt in the navy, at all times when he was living, caused the navy league to designate his birthday as the time when a special appeal would be made to the country to consider the needs of their sea forces.

GIRL SHOT BY MASKED MAN; SEEK CAUSE

Watertown, S. D.—Authorities at Clark are investigating the mysterious shooting of Miss Mathilda Doyne, daughter of a prominent farmer residing three miles west of Clark, early last evening. According to her own story, a man whose face was covered, fired at her as she stood at the back door of her home. The bullet penetrated her right arm below the shoulder.

The girl said a man named Weber is the only person who could have a reason to attack her. Weber was arrested here last night, but furnished an alibi and was released.

State's Attorney J. E. Sawyer to-day identified the revolver found near the house, as belonging to the girl's brother. No suspicion attaches to him, the state's attorney said.

Washington.—Consolidation of the war and navy departments into a department of national defense as provided in the government reorganization program probably will not be approved by President Coolidge, it was intimated.

REFUSES TO PADLOCK SALOONS UNDER LAW

Philadelphia.—Judge Thompson in the federal district court today refused to issue an order for the "padlocking" of six Schuylkill county saloons for alleged violation of the prohibition law, pending a final hearing of the case on a ground that the government had not produced satisfactory evidence that the defendants were committing nuisances under the national prohibition law.

ROUT MORON WITH SHEARS

La Crosse.—When Miss Irene Schroeder, 25, and Miss Louise Miller, 24, were attacked by a moron who was on the way home last night from a sewing school, Miss Schroeder pulled a pair of scissors from her handbag and fought off the man by jabbing him a dozen times in the chest. The assailant fled.

DIES IN RHEINLANDER

Rhineland.—Following a paralytic stroke, an elderly resident, one of Rhineland's oldest residents, died. Burial will be at Lake Mills.

TWO PAY $1,000 FINES IN SO. JANESVILLE CASES

Ship me back to Milwaukee where the best is like the worst.

And there ain't no ten commandments.

And a man can raise a thirst.

All records for payment of heavy fines in local county courts are believed to have been broken Friday afternoon, when Mr. and Mrs. Horan Schultz, operating the old hotel in South Janesville, a notorious resort for several years, paid fines of $1,000 each upon their pleas of guilty to bootlegging charges. The fines were assessed by Judge E. J. Maxfield in municipal court here and at the conclusion of the cases, Schultz walked out to the clerk's office and paid a total of $2,020.70 into the court treasury.

While fines of $1,000 to $2,000 have been levied by Judge Maxfield in the past year, this is the first time in history such large ones have been paid. Most of those sentenced in the past have chosen to "serve" terms under the commitment law rather than pay a fine.

Back to Milwaukee.

During their arraignment Friday, Schultz and his wife both expressed a desire to get the case over with so they could close up the South Janesville place and return to Milwaukee, which city they left five weeks ago to take over the business here.

It's a hell of a place out there and we're going to quit and go back to Milwaukee," Schultz told the court. "Every other fellow who comes along is a bootlegger and wants to load you up with his stuff. When you tell him you've got a big supply, he threatens to expose you if you don't buy from him. We've had enough of it all. We're decent, respectable people and want to get back to Milwaukee to continue our two rooming houses."

Told they'd be protected.

Schultz said he bought the rights of operating the South Janesville hotel about a month ago from James Tullis and that he took it for granted everything would be all right if he sold his moonshine were continued. Schultz declared that he was even informed by one Holtz, a porter or cook in the hotel, that the place would be protected against any trouble. He said he paid Tullis $3,500 for the taking over of the business.

"Did you talk with any county officials in regard to getting protection?" the court asked Schultz.

"No, I didn't—I took it for granted everything would be O. K.," the defendant replied.

"We took too much for granted, don't you think?" "I guess I did."

Tank is removed.

The arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Schultz was the result of a raid Friday morning conducted by Sheriff Fred (Continued on Page 5)

Alleged Thefts to Pay for Football Trip Cost Life of Illinois Frosh

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Champaign, Ill.—Preparations to travel by automobile to the North-western Illinois football game at Chicago today, cost the life of one Phil Sharp, 22, Urbana, Ill. University of Illinois freshman fatally wounded last night by J. D. Hillyer, a motorcycle policeman.

Alexander Schultz, son of Prof. W. T. Schultz of the department of physics at the university, a companion of Sharp, was released early today on bonds of $1,000, after being questioned by police concerning tires and auto accessories said by police to have been stolen, which were found in the machine the boys intended using for the trip.

The car was an old one they expected to fix up, the police learned.

Hillyer discovered the boys taking a tire from another car, according to the police. He ordered them to halt and, when Schultz fled in the boy's car and Sharp ran down an alley, the officer fired twice at Sharp. At the hospital where he died it was said his leg was broken by one shot.

Schultz was taken into custody after the shooting and questioned for several hours. Hillyer was not held, but was directed to appear at a coroner's inquest today.

High Class Movie Theater for City

If the plans now being made are carried out, Janesville will have one of the finest theaters in the middle west.

The Fischer Paramount Theaters have entered into a deal with Harry Jones, promoter and owner of the theater now under construction on Franklin street, whereby the house is to be taken over by that corporation and operated.

The deal contemplates the purchase outright of the theater, involving some $250,000, and $10,000 in stock is being sold to Janesville people in the Fischer Paramount company. This organization owns two theaters in Madison, the Majestic and the Madison, and one in Appleton; and has just purchased a site for a new house in Fond du Lac at a ground price of $58,000. The company also has five theaters in Milwaukee and one in LaSalle, Ill.

It is stated by E. W. Fischer, who spent Thursday and Friday in Janesville, that the plans of the architects made for the theater will be carried out, insuring to the people of Janesville not only an artistic show house but one absolutely safe and constructed along the most modern lines of strength and durability.

Premier showings are being made by the Fischer circuit owing to an arrangement which he has with the Paramount Players and Paramount producers. The plan of the Paramount now is to give, first showings in smaller cities before placing them on the market in the larger places. In that way, the people of Madison (Continued on page 5)

Victory at Coblenz, Bonn and Aix-la-Chapelle Told in Dispatches.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London.—France's new acceptance of Great Britain's invitation to participate in a committee of experts for re-examination of Germany's capacity to pay reparations was received today at the foreign office.

It is understood that it sets forth the conditions as essential preliminaries before France can give full approval to the conference. These are:

That the committee shall operate under the aegis of the present inter-allied reparations commission.

That the committee shall not be invested with authority to reduce the total in Rhineland figure from Germany, which France regards as a matter for agreement among the powers.

That Germany must give more complete and satisfactory evidence of her cessation of passive resistance.

Coblenz.—The Rhineland republic, made stronger by the approval of the Franco-Belgian authorities, is devoting its energies to extension and organization of the separatist movement. At Coblenz has set up a ministry, of which Joseph Matthes is premier, although he pretends to be called executive commissioner. The other portfolios have been assigned as follows:

Herr Von Metten, foreign minister; Herr Wolterhoff, minister of the interior; Herr Kremer, minister of instruction and public worship; Herr Müller, minister of transportation; Herr Kiehl, minister of justice and agriculture.

With the exception of Father Kremer, who is a Roman Catholic priest, the ministers are lawyers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London.—Reuter's Cologne correspondent relays a message from Coblenz, dated Friday, stating that Paul Tardat, the French high commissioner in the Rhineland, has received orders from Paris to acknowledge the separatist movement as lawful and that the immediate promulgation of an ordinance by the inter-allied Rhineland commission to this effect is expected.

Support for the separatist movement has become more active, the message added, although it does not appear to have much chance of success.

FOOD AND EMPLOYMENT RIOTS ARE REPORTED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Dusseldorf.—Food and unemployment riots, accompanied by pillaging and resulting in clashes with the authorities, are reported from various towns throughout the Ruhr. There were many casualties in some cases, 20 persons being killed and 15 wounded at Bochum and five killed at Duisburg.

NORTH RHINELAND WON BY SEPARATISTS, CLAIM

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Düren.—The separatists in the north Rhineland say they have successfully established positions at Aix-la-Chapelle, Bonn and other points. It now is impossible, the leaders assert, to extend the republican lines whenever self-operations are deemed opportune.

The separatists especially claim progress at Coblenz, where Joseph Matthes has been installed as chief of the provisional government. It is asserted that he has been virtually recognized by the inter-allied Rhineland commission.

The military leaders talk openly of progress at Coblenz, where Joseph Matthes has been installed as chief of the provisional government. It is asserted that he has been virtually recognized by the inter-allied Rhineland commission.

Madison.—Passengers on board the special train bringing supporters of the University of Minnesota football team to Madison last night were relieved of an undetermined amount of money. It was reported to police today. A search for the thief has been started.

Woman Is Killed Near Evansville as Bus Hits Car

Evansville.—Enroute to Beloit to spend the week-end with relatives and friends, Mrs. Anna Johnson, 65, wife of Peter Johnson, Rutland township farmer, was instantly killed when the car in which she was riding was struck by the Janesville-Madison motor bus, driven by Herbert Rogers, Madison, on Highway 10, three miles east of town. Four others in the five-passenger touring car, driven by Mathew Johnson, Oregon, had miraculous escapes when their car was struck in the rear by the big motor bus, carried 60 feet, then pushed into a ditch, turning on its side. Mrs. Johnson, sitting in the back seat with Mrs. Mary Hansen, Brooklyn, and Mrs. Hilda Johnson, wife of the driver, was instantly killed, her skull being fractured. Mathew and O. J. Johnson were in the front seat.

On Highway 10.

The accident occurred about 10 a. m. Saturday on Highway 10, three miles east of town, at the Bull Tavern corner. The bus was coming to Janesville, as was the Johnson car. Johnson turned onto the state trunk highway from the side road and the impact occurred a moment later.

The Johnson car was wrecked and the motor bus only slightly damaged. The other occupants of the Johnson car had only minor scratches. They were able to extricate themselves from the wreckage. There were no other passengers in the motor bus.

Rogers, a youth of 22 or 23 years old, had been operating the bus but three days and was hurrying back to Janesville to take a load to the homecoming game. He maintained he was going no faster than 20 miles an hour but, according to Chief Fred Gilman of Evansville, who investigated, the physical facts refute this statement and indicate the bus was traveling at a high rate of speed.

Driver Is Not Held.

Chief Gilman notified County Coroner Lynn M. Whaley, who advised him not to hold Rogers. Mr. Whaley is expected to announce later whether or not an inquest will be held.

The body of Mrs. Johnson was taken to the Johnson undertaking rooms at Stoughton. Funeral arrangements have not been made. It was announced at noon Saturday.

Rogers continued on to Janesville.

OKLAHOMA BROOM TO SWEEP CLEAN, SAY LEGISLATORS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Oklahoma City, Okla.—With the impeachment trial of Governor J. C. Walton, scheduled to begin next Thursday, the house investigating committee, which submitted the charges of official misconduct against the executive, prepared today to extend its investigation of the state to other officials and departments of state.

Declaring their work had just started, with the completion of the case against the governor, members of the committee said the farthest corners of the state will be searched to make the investigation entire.

No condition which the committee will be "whitewashed," they added.

One Month's Work by New City Manager

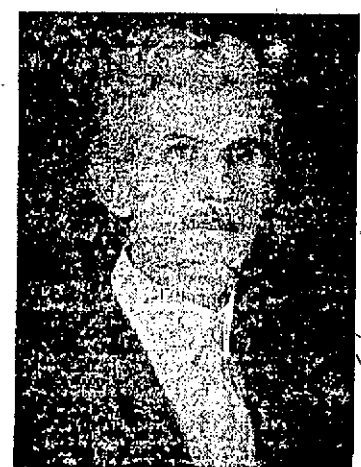

Janesville likes its first city manager and councilmen are being congratulated on their choice of Henry Traxler as the man for the job. Those who have become acquainted with him and have seen him in action during the seven weeks he has served are convinced that a wise selection has been made and are looking forward to his full co-operation in bringing about a more efficient and businesslike administration in Janesville at the same time accomplishing greater results.

Mr. Traxler is discarding archaic methods and systems whose only excuse for existence has been largely tradition and the fact that nobody cared, or else did not have the courage to modernize them. False economy ideas are being eliminated and in general the city is beginning to operate along the lines of a corporation and not as a political machine.

Not a "Little King"

As opposed to the pre-conception of a city manager, especially an outsider, would "set himself up as a little king and listen to no one," the city manager is intensely human. While he resents dictatorial efforts and interference, Mr. Traxler welcomes the advice and suggestions of any citizen. "While he may not fol-

CANNOT EMPLOY ANY ONE TO MAKE RECORDS

Madison—County boards cannot employ anyone other than the register of deeds of each county to take tract index of county records when none have existed, an opinion from the attorney general's department to District Attorney Frank S. Symonds, Kenosha holds.

The opinion declares that the state laws require the register of deeds to do such work at a maximum pay of two cents per word.

The Kenosha county board had planned to employ a special officer at $3,000 a year to make a tract index.

Ford

More than 100 cents for the dollar—Either new or old

What a Ford is worth is easily determined by the value placed on the three new Fords just traded in for other makes of cars at a difference of less than $300.00. According to this difference, and the price of the cars which were traded for proves that the Fords were traded in for more than they cost, in other words a PREMIUM WAS PAID to get them by the other dealer.

This is not alone a fact with new Fords. Other dealers also give more than the market value for used Fords in trade for the cars that they are selling. Some dealers pay as high as $100.00 more for a Ford car than its appraised real market value, which proves conclusively that the Ford is the best BUY at all times.

A Ford is your best investment, because when you get ready to sell it you can usually dispose of it at a real price for cash or some other Dealer will be glad to have it. This cannot be said of any other make of car. If you don't believe it, investigate, and try to trade in another make of car, and you will be surprised to know that 80% of the Dealers will not accept anything else but Fords. 20% will accept in trade some other choice make of car, but none will allow you more than their appraised real value.

Ford Cars Are Sold On Their Merits

Janesville Automobile buyers purchased new Fords since January 1st, and 100 more will purchase before December 31st. These conservative buyers bought Ford cars because they wanted to get 100% value for their money, realizing that Fords rank first in production—quality—service—and resale value.

If you are not numbered among the 3,600,000 happy Ford owners now is the time to enroll. We can make reasonable prompt delivery at the lowest possible price on terms to suit you.

The Ford Service is second to none. It is Service backed up by 42,000 AUTHORIZED FORD SERVICE DEALERS that are equipped and can render almost minute service.

Compare the price of the Ford with the price of any other make of car, and you will realize that there is a great difference not alone in its original cost and service, but in its trade-in value.

GAZETTE GOOD TIMES CLUB FOR ALL SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS

EDITED BY MRS. FLORENCE SLOAN HYDE.

MRS. HYDE.

Honor standards for Good Times club athletic tests will be based on the weight for those taking tests, rather than age or school grades. There will be three weight classes.

Class 1 tests will be taken by pupils weighing 50 to 60 lbs. Class 2 will be for those weighing from 60 to 75 lbs. Class 3 will be for those weighing over 75 lbs. Standards and tests for boys and girls will differ somewhat.

November tests will be as follows: Baseball Throw—Make a target 15 by 24 inches of wood to represent the area within which a "strike" must be thrown. Suspend this target on a fence or wall at the distance of 50 feet and mark the point clearly. Then measure 20 feet further and mark, and so on until the honor standard is reached for each class and sex is marked off. The width of the road shall constitute the area in which a throw may be counted.

Baseball Accuracy Throw—Make a target 15 by 24 inches of wood to represent the area within which a "strike" must be thrown. Suspend this target on a fence or wall at the distance of 50 feet and mark the point clearly. Then measure 20 feet further and mark, and so on until the honor standard is reached for each class and sex is marked off. The width of the road shall constitute the area in which a throw may be counted.

It may require considerable practice to reach the honor standard in these tests. Twenty points are to be allowed in the individual honor contest for each pupil who succeeds in passing both of these tests during the month of November. Ten points will be allowed for passing one test.

AGE AND WEIGHT
According to age, height and weight cards issued by the state board of health, boys 8 to 10 years should weigh in the 50 to 60 pound class. Boys over 10 and under 12½ years should range in weight from 62 to 81 pounds. Boys over 12½ years should weigh over 81 pounds. Girls 8 to 10 years should weigh 50 to 60 pounds; over 10 years and under 12½ years, 62 to 75. Those a little less than 13 years may be expected to reach class 2 in weight. Of course, height makes a difference as to the weight one should have at a certain age. On the other hand, athletic directors have found that weight has as a rule, more to do with physical ability than age or height, and this basis of classification is now being used quite generally. Age and weight figures are given for reference with clothing. Wherever possible, pupils should be weighed on a reliable scales once a month to ascertain their weight class for the month. This is essential for those pupils who may be near the border line between two weight classes. A playground baseball should be used for both tests. This type of ball is more suitable for school use than the league baseball and is not expensive. The purchase of a new playground ball will count ten points in the interschool pennant contest.

STATE TEACHERS MEETING
How many delegates will Rock and Waubesa counties have to represent the rural schools in the business transactions at the meeting of the Wisconsin Teachers' association in Milwaukee, November 8 and 9? The number of delegates will depend on the number of teachers who pay membership dues to the county association treasurers prior to the opening of the convention. Miss Mabel Rosenhauer, Elkhorn is the Walworth county treasurer, and Miss Marie Ludden, of the county superintendent's office, is receiving dues from Rock county teachers. Each county had two delegates at last year's convention, besides those elected from the locals in Whitewater, Janesville, Beloit, Lake Geneva and Delavan. One delegate is elected for each 50 paid-up members. Walworth county teachers elected three delegates at a meeting held last Saturday. Rock county teachers are requested to send their first and second choice for delegates to Miss Ludden by November 1. Those who have not paid their membership dues should send the $2. fee with their vote for delegates. It is explained that the local associations

Employees of All Public Utilities to Gather, Nov. 6

Plans are being made for an inter-utility meeting for public utilities of Janesville at the Y. M. C. A. at 8:30 p. m. Nov. 6.

It will be a get-together meeting, according to William R. Schmidley, manager of the Janesville Electric company, who sponsored the meeting which will bring together the employees of all public utilities in Janesville.

One hundred and twenty-five are expected to attend with the Janesville Electric company, the New Gas Light company, the city water department, the Wisconsin Telephone company, the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph company represented.

Mr. Schmidley has secured as a speaker W. S. Vivian, of the department of public relations of the Midwest Utilities company. W. C. Sparks, Rockford, general manager of the Rockford and Interurban company, is expected to be present. Janesville is unique in the state in having a group of public utilities which are separate and distinct organizations, having no connection with any other one in the city.

Des Moines—Charles A. Rockwood, Des Moines business man, who disappeared from his fishing lodge near Mason Lake, Wis., more than a month ago, and who was found in Phoenix, Ariz., in a dazed condition, returned to his home last night. Rockwood said he was unable to explain his wanderings. A blow on the head at Phoenix is believed to have restored, in part, his lost memory.

do not get credit on their delegate quota for members who pay dues at the convention.

President Frank S. Hyde, Whitewater normal, is president of the state association. In an address to Walworth county teachers last Sunday, Dr. Hyde said: "The association is the one organization that is in a position to truly represent the teachers in working for the right kind of educational legislation. The rural schools should be well represented in business transactions of the association because the greatest problem in Wisconsin is better rural school conditions." He explained further that under a plan just adopted, the official organ of the association is to be sent to all members and to members on only other subscription list will be maintained. Members are eligible to attend all sessions of the convention, but only the regularly elected delegates vote in the association election and on association policies.

School boards are authorized by law to allow teachers' pay for the two days attendance at the convention. However, it is necessary that the teacher who wishes to attend the convention consult her board as to whether or not grant pay for those two days, according to their own discretion.

National Education Week
The last week of November is designated by the U. S. bureau of education as "national education week." All schools are asked to observe "community day" Friday November 23. It is suggested that a meeting for parents be held in either the afternoon or evening and that the program consist of discussions of local school problems. The school officers and teacher may each have something to say as to what the parents may do to cooperate in making the school more efficient. This would be an excellent time to organize a community club or parent-teacher association. Suggestions for the formation and activities of such organizations will be furnished free by the Gazette community service department.

FOR YOUNGER PUPILS
Pupils under 8 years are not required to pass the above tests, but may, at the discretion of the teacher, practice throwing the ball. The following tests are prescribed for children under eight years or weighing less than 50 pounds:

Bean Bag Throw—Make a receptacle by using one box 18 inches square and another about 18 inches square. Fasten the smaller box inside the larger one and set at an angle. Pupils practice throwing five bean bags in succession from a distance of 12 feet. Three catches out of five throws shall be the honor standard.

Bean Bag Catch—The teacher or play-leader throws five bean bags in succession to a child from a distance of 12 feet. Three catches out of five throws shall be the honor standard.

Any pupil that makes a bean bag for five tests and other school games may be awarded 5 points on his record for November in the individual honor contest. Each school that makes the bean bag apparatus as described will be awarded 10 points in the pennant contest.

HEALTH HONOR ROLL
The following pupils are reported by Miss Anna Lautschner, Rock county nurse as winning a place on the good health honor roll for normal weight and no physical defects in examinations made during the week ending, October 20:

Plain View, Dist. 4, Johnston—Gladys Pitt, Helen Schultz, Vivian

Sturdivant.

Berens, Dist. 8, Johnston—Margaret Fanning, Philip Sumoling, Bernice Newton, Mary Fanning, Orville Robish.

TWO NEW BRANCHES

Two new branches of the Good Times club are reported for the past week. Hickory Grove, district, Bradford, sends enrollments for 28 pupils. Mrs. Jennie M. Stark is the teacher. Members are: Ethel Bradt, Ethel Tucker, Esther Dunn, William Stark, Hans Hansen, Frederick Schultz, Agnes, Harry, Carl and Louis Nelson, Palmer, Stanley, Sophie and Bernard Larsen, Hazel, Verna, Myrtle, Esther and Nina Johnson, Raymond, Kenneth, Donald and Marie Gifford, Edward, Ruth and Louise Schultz.

White River, dist. 6, Lyons township, Walworth county, sends enrollments for 14 pupils as follows: Edward Gauger, Agnes Mueller, Gordon Malsch, Selma Krueger, Violet Voss, Emma and Walter Smith, Evelyn Travis, Walter Mueller, Sara Malsch, Lester and Lawrence Gauger, Herman and Clarence Smith. The teacher is Miss Mary J. Stallman.

MOTION PICTURE SCHEDULE

The Gazette motion picture entertainment schedule for the coming week is as follows: Tuesday, October 30, Vickerman school; Wednesday, Rock River school; Thursday, Con school; Friday, Newville school.

The following program has been booked for these entertainments: "Taming of the Shrew" 2 reel comedy drama; "Golden Locks and the Three Bears" 1 reel children's feature; "Striking Threes" 1 reel comedy; "Glacier Park" 1 reel travel; Gazette film, "The Making of a Newspaper," 1 reel.

November 5, is the only date booked for week after next. Lenox school will have a program on that date. The following program has been booked for that week: "The Little White Girl" 2 reel Mary McAllister play; "Striking Threes" 1 reel comedy; Northwinds masonry, one reel scenery and nature study; "Child of My Heart" 1 reel photograph.

Bird school, route 1, Whitewater, will have a program November 14. Other dates that week are still open. The following films have been booked: "Hilwa" 2 reels; "Rip Van Winkle" 1 reel; "Beating Him to It," 1 reel comedy; "Over the Mountains to Eureka Ventura" 1 reel travel. The Gazette film is shown at each entertainment unless it has previously been seen in the same community.

The Community club of Johnston Center will have a program November 27 and Mary Miles school has booked Nov. 21. Millard state graded school, Walworth county, has requested a program in November but has not yet accepted a definite date.

Salvation Army

Total Is $4,500;

6 Stoves Offered

Six responses came to the Salvation Army as a result of the appeal made in the Gazette for a cook stove to give to a needy family.

The Day nursery has had a daily attendance of around 10 children for the past two weeks. Transportation is now being furnished night and morning for 13 children, and five children are taken to and from school. Mr. and Mrs. David A. man have been employed to assist the staff of three officers. The five workers are operating the day nursery and carrying on relief work and other activities. "Water heating facilities have been placed in the bathroom, but it is probable that no other repairs will be made this year.

Detailed plans and the apportioning funds secured in the drive will be decided upon at an advisory committee meeting to be held soon. It is expected that organization of the permanent advisory board will be effected at this meeting, which will be held on a date when Earl Jeffrey, Milwaukee, program director for the Lake division, can be present.

Cash receipts from the local drive now total $4,500, with around $3000 in pledges. A complete check-up has not been made to date on the number of pledges made during the drive and paid within the last few days, so that the exact amount of outstanding pledges cannot be stated.

Liquor Owner Is

Handed $100 Fine

Monroe—J. W. Killo, Monticello, was acquitted of charges of destruction of evidence in the raid on the Emil Schweitzer home in Monticello, July 4 by a jury in circuit court. Schweitzer pleaded guilty to possession of liquor and was fined $100 and costs.

All criminal cases ready for trial were disposed of by Friday afternoon and Judge George Grimm announced an adjournment until Monday. The case of George Moore, Brodhead, comes up next week.

Civil cases will occupy the attention of the court next week.

PRESBYTERIANS WILL

HAVE "CHURCH DAY"

A Council of Church Life and Work has been formed by the Presbyterian church here, consisting of the Session and heads of all church activities. One of the first projects of the new organization will be setting aside Thursday of each week as "Church Day."

E. S. CAREY—EVANSVILLE REPRESENTATIVE

Seeing Business Through the Eyes of Wall Street

New York, Wall Street.—It is somewhat popular to say that the market is in a pessimistic mood. The unfavorable is stressed and the favorable is overlooked. There is no denying that in some cases a business is poor and in others bad, but it also is true that, regarded as a whole, business is in fair volume and the outlook is for better business, not worse.

Conditions in the United States warrant constructive policies on the part of executives responsible for the direction of industry, commerce or finance. In most lines stocks are normal and henceforward with unimportant exceptions and unless fortuitous circumstances should arise, market requirements both here and abroad will be met or the upbuilding of stocks, but for current consumption. This is a healthy condition and assures the maintenance of a good volume of business.

In the money market there is neither stringency nor overabundance of funds. The credit machine is functioning smoothly. Producers and merchants have been cautious ever since the brief outburst of over-enthusiasm which characterized the early months of 1922. Except in a few lines there is no evidence of accumulation of goods in the hands of dealers and in other directions there is equally convincing testimony that stocks in cash are being sold steadily from production to consumption with adequate but not abnormally heavy stocks in the hands of business buyers.

Prices and Consumption.—Whether or not the present productive capacity of the manufacturing industries of the United States is in excess of current domestic consumption, supplemented by such export demand as may be expected will depend on the relationship of prices of finished goods to other prices. The present period is not one of depression. It is a period of adjustment, with business seeking to find the point of maximum consumption, which necessarily must be at price levels that do not curtail the consumption of large classes of the population.

There is evidence that the leaders of the manufacturing, financial and merchandising communities are dealing with the situation with wisdom and skill. They are not the kind of leaders of labor should handle their problems with equal understanding. Increasing unemployment would be the inevitable corollary to reduced consumption of finished goods and advancing prices. In last analysis the international market governs prices of many products. Most agricultural prices are directly determined there. While the United States exports of manufactures are not large in relation to total output, they are important from the standpoint of profits and of full employment. Production costs push prices too far above the international levels, the American exporter will have a poor chance in the international market, a further factor tending toward unemployment.

Industry and Agriculture.—The policy of hard-to-mount buying is in evidence in practically every line. This is naturally reflected in a superficially unsatisfactory situation as measured by the volume of forward orders and consequent disappointment on the part of those who are satisfied only when boom conditions prevail. Manufacturing activity nevertheless is on a healthy rate. This must be so as indicated not only by data as to production of finished goods and consumption of raw materials, but by the fact that there is relatively little unemployment, although the seasonal peak of labor requirements for construction and agriculture has passed. The leading steel industry is operating at nearly 90 per cent of capacity and the rate of operation for the industry as a whole is probably about 85 per cent. Deliveries are being made promptly, and forward orders represent actual needs. Orders for railroad requirements may from now on be expected to show a seasonal increase and should be satisfactory even though they do not reach the great volume of last season.

A marked advance in the price of wheat has afforded much ground for encouragement in the wheat-growing sections. It is to be hoped that this is not an advance in the tendency toward decreased acreage. The price of hogs has declined somewhat under pressure of heavy deliveries, but it is fairly satisfactory to producers of the better quality. Prices of cattle and lambs are also quite good, compared to the levels of several months ago.

It is not unlikely that the quality of the corn crop has been materially lowered in some localities by frosts but on the whole the crop is good. Although the cotton crop is disappointing from the standpoint of the users of raw cotton, growers are being recouped by the high price. The production of the farmers of the country as a whole is unquestionably improved.

Money Rates.—Conditions in the money market remained practically unchanged from Sept. 17 to Oct. 15. The volume of rediscounts with the federal reserve banks is slightly larger than 30 days ago and commercial banks are showing member banks show a moderate increase. The rate for commercial paper has shown no material change at 5% per cent for prime names. Offerings are in moderate volume. Demand from country banks is well distributed, is very active and is increasing. New York City banks have been in the market only in a limited way.

Although securities prices remained practically unchanged from Sept. 17 to Oct. 15, there was some improvement in the undertone of the market at the close of the period. There has been some evidence of an increase in the amount of funds seeking investment in high-grade new issues being promptly absorbed and prices being well maintained after the original offering. Accumulations of unsold issues of high-grade securities have largely been cleared up, this being especially so in the municipal bond section of the market. This has been due to some extent to the improved tone.

TREES FIX LAND PRICES.—Corn—Land is not sold by the acre. When land is sold, the number of trees are counted and the price fixed on the productive power of the trees. This is a rich in olive trees and vines. Wherever there is an olive tree, a price is set on its value and that value determines the value of the land.

SHIRTS, BREAK RECORD.—Maulin—Seizures of goods, especially of illicit opium shipments, struggled into the Philippine Islands during the second quarter of 1923 increased enormously over previous records, according to a report just issued by the customs secret service.

DISCARD NATIVE FOOTWEAR.—Peking—Chinese are gradually taking to the use of leather shoes, according to J. C. Huston, American consul. Chinese who have not adopted the foreign style of footwear are beginning to use chrome leather shoes with their native cloth uppers.

AT THE APOLLO.
Jackie Coogan, autocrat of filmland, is seen at his best in the picture of the famous and “Circus Days,” bearing the name of “Circus Days.” Coogan, frisks, elephants, 50 trained horses and 500 talented performers lend their skill to the success of this celebrated story of circus life. Jackie Coogan, the famous clown, runs away from the farm and joins the circus.

Jackie Coogan—Circus Days

circus. His life here doesn't improve much until he does something that results in his being made the star clown of the show.
Because this is a picture of circus life and bound to thrill the kiddies, two children's matinees are scheduled Monday and Wednesday at 4:10, in addition to the regular matinees.
The high school band will be the guests of the management. Monday night. They will march from the high school wearing tricky little hats, highly colored with circus scenes.
A feature picture starring one of the popular luminaries is to be shown the last of the week in connection with the regular four acts of vaudeville.

AT THE BEVERLY.
Five stars, Noah Beery, Marjorie Daw, Tully Marshall, Pat O'Malley and Claire McDowell contribute to “The Lying Truth,” which exposes political facades in a circumstantial evidence. The plot concerns a reporter who defies the political boss of the county and later, the picture, a father casts off his own son to make a fortune. Claire McDowell has been seen frequently at local theaters, playing the motherly parts, in which she has become famous.
An unusual picture is “Loyal Lives,” which is the official recognition of the postmaster general and the only department at Washington. Carriers and employees of the postoffice have been invited to attend the picture, which shows the self-sacrificing work being done by postoffice employees.
All star cast. Brandon Byrne, Tully Marshall, William Collier, Jr., Mary Carr and Claire McDowell are shown in this drama of the United States mail service. This is a story of devotion to service of a mail carrier, Daniel O'Brien.
A picture starring Douglas Fairbanks supported by beautiful Alma Rubens, needs but little introduction.

and tries to obtain the land owned by her father. With Jack Stokes, defending the younger sister, William Coogan, and persuading the elder daughter, Elizabeth, to divorce Jack, marries her himself. There is much scheming and intrigue to obtain the land, but Jack Stokes succeeds in ousting Phil and discovering that it is Phil and not Elizabeth that he loves. Marries her. Evelyn Nelson and Jessilyn Van Trump are the women stars.

ZANIAS OFFERS $25 IN PRIZES FOR DOG ESSAYS

Other folks choose fish stories to entertain their friends with, but children, well, kids, just love dog stories, especially if they are true stories and about their own faithful collie, terrier, hound, or mongrel. The dog is not declassified for a dog doesn't have to be a blue ribbon winner to win the love and affection of a child.

People enjoy extolling the virtues of their friends and children delight in relating the super qualities of their dogs. Here is a chance, boys and girls, to tell the world all about the tricks and traits of Rover and best of all to get paid for it. James Zanias, manager of the Apollo theatre, thinks that the finest dog on earth is Rin-Tin-Tin, a beast of the north, who is to be seen at the Apollo theatre, the week of Nov. 6, in “Where the North Begins.” Mr. Zanias places Rin-Tin-Tin far above the famous movie dog, “Strongheart” but that will be for you to judge when seeing “Where the North Begins.”

In the meantime, keep on believing that Rover is in a class by himself, and write a little story to the editor of the dog contest, Jansville Daily Gazette, telling him why, for this season, at least, you are betting on Rover. The name of your essay or little story will be “The Dog—Man's Best Friend.” In 100 words, no more, you are to tell, from your own experience, why you think the dog is the best friend that a man can have. Three competent judges will read over the stories which must be at the Gazette office before 9 p. m. Nov. 3 and award a prize of $15 in gold to the author of the best story and $5 each for the second and third best stories. Winners will be announced in the Gazette, Monday, Nov. 5. All grade school children of Jansville and vicinity are eligible.

Athletes for girls and women will be one of the leading topics for consideration at the ten National Recreation Congress, soon to be held at Springfield, Ill.

WORLD'S BANKERS TO STATE TERMS

German Ability to Pay Will be Examined by International Experts.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923, by Jansville Daily Gazette.

Washington—Exchange of notes between Great Britain and the United States relative to the appointment of an unofficial commissioner whose advice on reparations shall not be binding upon any government means one thing—namely, that the international bankers of the world are including J. P. Morgan and company, stand ready once more to examine Germany's assets and liabilities and state the terms of which an international loan can be floated.

Although on the surface there is fresh hope and renewed interest the situation stands today exactly where it was in June, 1922, when J. P. Morgan himself and bankers of other countries came to France on the invitation of the reparations commission and discussed ways and means of floating an international loan.

The only difference that exists now is that France has had her try, but compulsory collection of reparations in the Ruhr and the experiment has resulted in an enormous expense to France, very little reparations either in commodities or money and a trend toward the dissolution of the German republic into separate states which may go to the extent of a breakdown of the Versailles treaty pledges and a repudiation of Germany's debt by each of the new states.

Hope for France.

Germany's cessation of passive resistance in the Ruhr has also put a new factor into the situation which has encouraged both London and Washington to hope for a new parity. But the fundamentals are the same. J. P. Morgan in Paris more than a year ago, rather than the commission on which he sat—came to the conclusion that no international loan could be floated until the investors of the world felt sure that the German people would be freed from the arbitrary restraints and penalties which the French under the Versailles treaty could impose at will. France on the other hand, clings desperately to the rights she has under the treaty of penalizing Germany for non-payment of debts and the bankers know they can not sell a loan to the investors of the world unless some sort of guarantee or assurance is forthcoming that the German government will be stable enough to pay interest and principal in future years.

Hope that France will accept has been more or less dashed to the ground by the cablegrams published here within the last 24 hours from Paul Scott Mowrer, Paris correspondent of the Chicago Daily News who is known to be intimate with all the French government. Mr. Mowrer's cables were published here before the text of the British and American notes became public but his information is based on the attitude of the French government since it received copies of the British and American communications.

French Attitude.
The French viewpoint, in a nutshell, according to Mr. Mowrer, is that the reparations commission knows already what Germany can pay if she wants to but that apparently America is unwilling to join in any measures that will force Germany to pay her debts and until that is forthcoming proposals will be futile.

There is significance nevertheless in the publication simultaneously in London and Washington of the notes exchanged between the two governments. All this must be placed together with the speech made the other day in London by Ambassador Harvey declaring that Europe—really meaning France—had closed the door to American participation in any helpful way in European problems. Also it must be recalled that David Lloyd George, former prime minister has been making speeches on this side of the Atlantic denouncing the plan proposed by Secretary Hughes in his New Haven speech last year providing for an international commission to advise the reparations commission.

Everything is directed toward persuading France to agree to the proposal which she more or less ignored when it was made informally to Premier Poincare last December by Secretary Hughes through the regular diplomatic channels. France was bent then, however, on going into the Ruhr. She has gone in and obtained little. So the proposal is made once again for a scientific settlement based on the idea that if Germany's capacity to pay is once ascertained a loan can be made to Germany by the international bankers whereat the Germans can pay some real cash to France on account and thus begin the cycle of economic restoration for which the whole commercial world has long been waiting.

BLIND PENSIONERS AND THEIR AFFIDAVITS
Madison—County clerks are not required to seek applicants for blind pensions but may have affidavits for such made in places other than their offices in case of feebleness, according to an opinion delivered to District Attorney Henry J. Behm of Baraboo. The district attorney had asked whether it was permissible for the county attorney to go to a home and take affidavits for pensions there. The attorney general's department further advised that county boards are required to appoint examiners for blind pensioners.

SOME OF THE RECENT IMPORTANT EVENTS OF THE WORLD TOLD IN PICTURES ON THIS PAGE

GERMAN MARKS GO SKYWARD—BUT ONLY ON KITES

Thrilling plays in latest victories of Michigan and Notre Dame. Above, Jack Blott, Michigan center, is kicking field goal from placement from 18-yard line for first score against Ohio State. Michigan won 23 to 0. Arrow indicates ball. Below, Miller, Notre Dame left half, is eluding tackler on forty-yard run for touchdown which helped Notre Dame lick Princeton 25 to 2.

Two teams, both of them in the middle west, loom up as the sensations of the 1923 football season. Only one eastern team has the chance to match them in brilliant performances. The two western outfits are Notre Dame and Michigan. The eastern rival is Cornell. Notre Dame has twice invaded the east—to lick Army and Princeton by decisive scores. Michigan is annihilating its Big Ten opponents every week end. Cornell has a clean slate in the east.

German children preparing to fly kite made of marks pasted together.

Harry Thompson Brundage, reporter, who helped expose the ring, walking with Prof. W. P. Sachs, former examiner for Missouri department of schools.

Wholesale arrests are predicted soon in St. Louis in connection with the expose of a ring consisting of physicians charged with selling fake medical diplomas. Harry Thompson Brundage, a newspaper reporter, is said to have obtained a degree of doctor of medicine for $5000. W. P. Sachs, prominent educator and formerly an examiner for the Missouri schools, is alleged to have been implicated in the ring. He denies the charges.

Arthur Weigall.

Arthur Weigall, famous Egyptologist who assisted in the supervision of the work of opening the tomb in the "Valley of the Kings," is now in the U. S. lecturing on the historical importance of discoveries in Tut's tomb and other excavations.

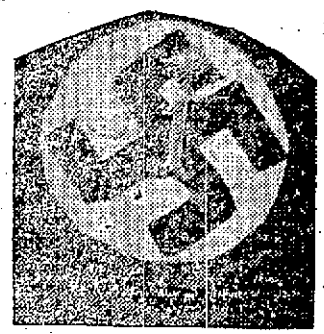

Earl of Craven and Countess Cathcart.

London society is all excited over the latest romantic episode in the lives and loves of Earl of Craven and Countess Cathcart. The pair recently eloped and now are on their way to South Africa.

"DOC" COOK, OF NORTH POLE FAME, NOW TRIED FOR ALLEGED OIL FRAUDS

The above is a reproduction of the arm insignia of the Fascisti soldiers in Bavaria, which has just broken from the German federation and in which a monarchical form of government is predicted. In addition to the Swastika, the sign of the Fascisti, the insignia carries the regimental number and rank of the wearer.

Bavarian sharpshooters snapped on return from fighting Poles in Upper Silesia, near Schliessen.

The monarchist troops of Bavaria, under the leadership of Von Ludendorff, are thirsting for war, according to reports from the German state which has just succeeded from the German federation. They are ready to march against Communist-ruled Saxony or Thuringia, which fears both invasion by Bavaria or Saxony. Ruppert has been proclaimed King on public appearance.

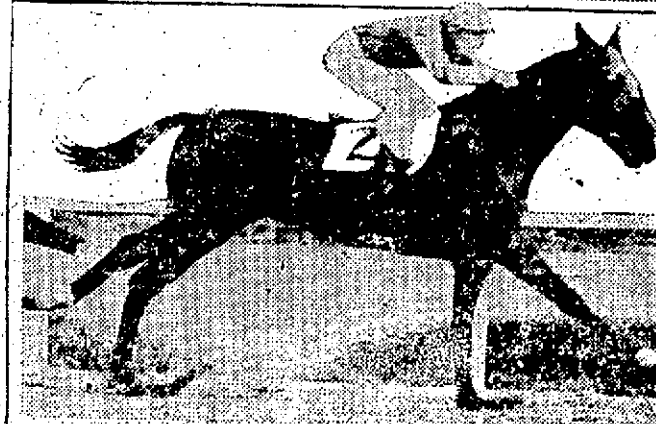

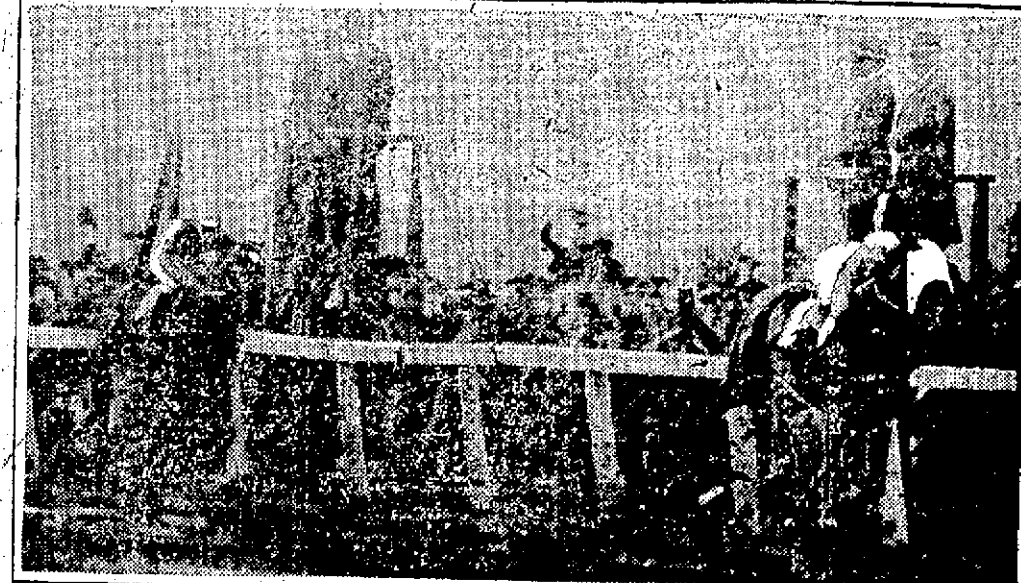

Ex-Premier David Lloyd George, Dame Margaret and Miss Megan Lloyd George leaving Harding's tomb at Marion.

The sincere regard Ex-premier David Lloyd George of England, one of the world's greatest living statesmen, held for the late President Harding was shown when Lloyd George interrupted his tour of the country long enough to pay a visit to the tomb of the late president at Marion, O. The statesman bowed his head at the resting place of the dead executive.

Gov. Len Small, right, and William Hale Thompson, snapped during recent meeting.

That Gov. Len Small of Illinois will be a candidate to succeed himself, and William Hale Thompson, former mayor of Chicago, will seek the senatorial nomination to succeed Medill McCormick, is expected by Illinois political students. The almost equal division of the two factions of the Republican party and the presence of Small and Thompson in the race will make it one of the most bitter campaigns in the state's history.

Above, Zev scoring latest triumph race-lyric over Papyrus, British turf sensation. Below, My Own at full stride.

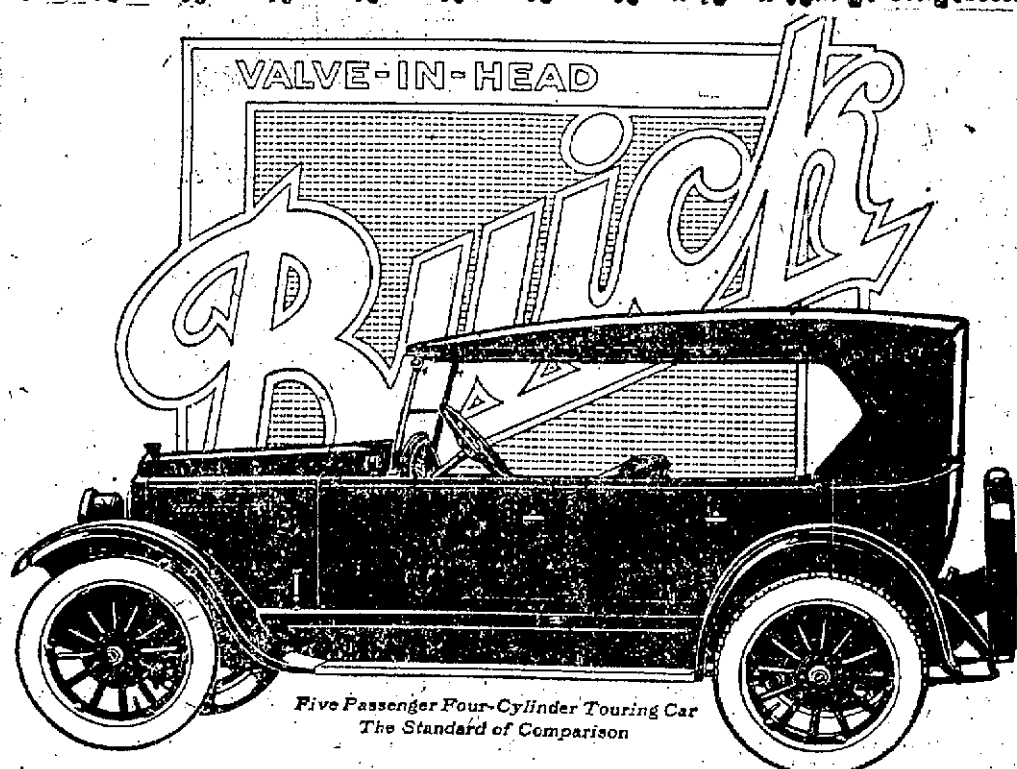

A match race between Zev and My Own looms up as the crowning event of a big turf season in the U. S. The meeting of the two, talked of all season, now seems probable. The brilliant five-length victory of Zev over Papyrus, the British sensation, in their recent international event makes the demand for the race between Harry Sinclair's horse and Admiral Grayson's My Own, all the more in demand. The race is needed to decide the question of supremacy as the two never have met.

How to Prepare Your Car for the Cold Weather

Burned out bearings and scored cylinder walls are a possibility during the freezing weather, if you neglect the precaution of draining the old oil out of the crank case at least once every 500 miles. The reason for this is, that during the cold weather there is considerable moisture in the air, which is drawn into the crank case through the oil breather pipe. This moisture, immediately it strikes the hot walls inside the crank case, condenses, with the result that it is not long before quite an amount of water collects at the bottom of the crank case. During the summer, this water cannot do a great deal of damage, but when the zero weather arrives, it is liable to cause very severe damage.

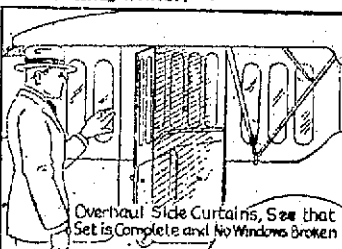

Water collects at the bottom of the crank case and is liable to freeze around the oil pump. See that oil is drained every 500 miles.

For the cold weather, use a slightly lighter grade of lubricating oil in the crank case than you have been using during the summer. If the oil is too heavy, it does not start circulating so fast, with the result that some parts of the engine do not get properly lubricated until the engine warms up and thins out the heavy oil. Consult the chart issued by one of the large oil companies, and use the grade of oil they recommend for your make of car for winter driving. A cover for the radiator is not an absolute necessity, but is one of the things that will soon save you its small cost and will also add considerably to your comfort when driving during the cold weather. If you have no cover for the radiator, the engine takes considerable time to warm up on account of the cold air being drawn through the radiator. You can warm up the engine in half the time by buttoning up the flap of the cover, so preventing the cold air being drawn through the radiator. Then again, when driving during the zero weather, if you have no cover on the radiator, the cold air is drawn right through and strikes the floor boards, creating a draft that keeps the feet extremely cold. One of the greatest enemies to efficient engine operation is the dilution of the lubricating oil with gasoline. As you probably know, heat assists the vaporization of gasoline. If, however, a cold blast of air is continually passing over the intake manifold and the carburetor, it keeps them cold, and to a certain extent condenses the mixture that is being drawn into the cylinders. The gasoline then enters the cylinders in drops, instead of finely broken up particles of gasoline. Only a small proportion of this coarse mixture is fired, the remainder of it settling on the tops of the pistons and on the cylinder heads, forming carbon, while the remainder of it sticks to the cylinder walls and is drawn down into the crank case, mixing with the lubricating oil, and destroying its lubricating properties. There are several more reasons why you should use a radiator cover, but I think I have given you enough to prove that if your car is not at present provided with a radiator cover, it will pay you to invest in one this winter.

Use a radiator cover during cold weather.

During the summer the side curtains are rarely used, and at different periods during the year are shifted around, or perhaps taken out of the car and very often sections get lost in this way. If they are left in the car, they are sometimes placed in the same compartment where wrenches and various tools are carried, which damage the celluloid windows. Now is the time to get out the side curtains, and fit them to see that you have a complete set, and also to examine them to see that no windows are broken. Most drivers never think of looking at their curtains until they are urgently in need of them, then to their astonishment find that some of the curtains are missing. Don't take any risks; get out your curtains now; see that they are complete, and if they require repairing, have it done now before the rush starts in.

Cut this article out and paste it on the wall of your garage to remind you what you have to do to get your car ready for the cold weather.

TRY MAKING A TITLE FOR THIS

"THE TIE THAT BINDS"

"The Tie That Binds" spurs under the wire first this week with a fair margin to spare. John W. Roberts, 511 Milwaukee avenue, Fort Atkinson, is the jockey. He won despite several close runners up, however, on the strength of the outstanding central feature—the striped four-in-hand tie on the dress shirt front. The utter and complete egotism and self satisfaction of the chap appealed to many contribs, however, more from suggestions Joseph Kennedy, Janesville; "Not Tied by Convention," from Mrs. John Waters, Whitewater; and "Cut by the Corset," from Truman Waters, Whitewater, are both corking titles. "In Stripes but Not Yet Sentenced," is Mrs. C. E. Blackford's title. Mrs. Blackford lives at Janesville. "Due for a Frost on the Pumpkin," is chosen by Miss Gladys Potter, Whitewater. And there were plenty more.

CLUBS JOIN IN PIERSON FAREWELL

Community Service Is Planned in Honor of Well Liked Pastor.

The Rev. R. G. Pierson of the Baptist church, who is leaving to take a pastorate near Pittsburgh, Pa., next month, will be honored at a special union farewell service to be held in the Baptist church at 7:30 Sunday night. Every organization of which he has been a member or connected with will be represented by a delegate. The Rev. J. A. Melrose for the Odd Fellows; Rotary club by Judge C. L. Dillard; A. E. Matheson for the Men's; the Rev. J. A. Melrose for the ministers of the city; and J. C. Hanchett for the Baptist church.

Music will be furnished by the Kiwanis quartet consisting of Arthur Schooff, Dr. S. F. Richards, David Drummond and Dr. J. Snodgrass. A duet by Mrs. K. MacCumber and J. A. Olsen and a solo by Mr. Olsen are also on the program.

The Rev. Mr. Pierson will deliver his farewell sermon at the regular Sunday morning service at the Baptist church.

Among the organizations to be represented are the Chamber of Commerce, Lions club, Rotary club, Odd Fellows, and Masons. The Kiwanis club, of which Mr. Pierson is a member, will attend in a body.

Several Talks Planned.

Harry Haggart, president of the Kiwanis club, will speak in behalf of the members. Others on the program will be Oscar Nelson, who will speak for the Chamber of Commerce; Jesse Barlow, a representative of the Lions club; George Waterman for the Odd Fellows; Rotary club by Judge C. L. Dillard; A. E. Matheson for the Men's; the Rev. J. A. Melrose for the ministers of the city; and J. C. Hanchett for the Baptist church.

K. of C. Extends Wishes.

Knights of Columbus at their meeting Thursday night passed a resolution praising the Rev. Mr. Pierson as a good citizen and extending him best wishes in his new work. The Knights' resolution follows:

"WHEREAS our friend and fellow citizen, the Rev. R. G. Pierson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has in the course of his duties, been called from our city to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and

"WHEREAS he is shortly to remove with his family to the place of his new work, and

"WHEREAS during his residence in Janesville he has been very friendly to this organization and to its members personally, always exemplifying the highest qualities of good citizenship and good fellowship.

"NOW, THEREFORE, Be it resolved by Carroll Council, Knights of Columbus, in regular meeting assembled, that this Council express to the Rev. R. G. Pierson its appreciation of his worth as a citizen of this community, and its best wishes for the success and happiness of himself and family in their new field of endeavor.

Our new Home

Home Ownership,

is the fulfillment of life's greatest ambition

COPYRIGHT 1923 FLOYD A. DENIER

Plan No. 1775

This typical chalet home plan of more than ordinary attractiveness will, if given careful consideration, make strong appeals for its adoption. Simplicity and straight lines dominate in the exterior construction, which shows stucco finish, but would look equally as well with siding or shingled walls.

A careful study of the interior arrangement will show compactness of rooms, modern conveniences with window arrangements that permit of maximum sunlight and ventilation.

What is the underlying thought of the girl and boy very early in life when they play house—the boy piecing together some boards for a cabin or draping old carpets on poles for a tent in which they arrange crude furniture and imaginary people?

It is the subconscious ambition for a HOME of his own or her own, born into their very souls and under proper influences and environment will remain there until satisfied by a real Livable, Lovable home. Deep down in the heart of the young man or woman passing out of childhood's domain what is that primal desire to possess a home. It is with thoughts of congenial unrestricted home life that young men and women should make themselves attractive to one another, in the hope of finding a fit mate for that home that is to be.

Home is not merely a place in which to eat and sleep but a paradise where loving hearts can enjoy the beautiful things of life in safety and harmony and children be privileged to retain those in-born desires without ignoble influences.

Home ownership represents determination, strong will power on the part of those who make it a reality. In the case of a man's income not being large, or the wife's early teaching as to economy and thrift not being exercised, there is that temptation, "let things drift along" the road of least resistance and be satisfied to dwell in a rented house rather than save for the future by practicing self-denial for a few years.

Increasing numbers of young people are resisting the lure of this specious thought and are turning their faces successward by acquiring THEIR OWN HOME. Think of the joy that comes to the hearts of father, mother and children when they take possession of their own home. It's the most wonderful feeling that we are privileged of experiencing, and the artist has furnished the inspiration in his picture above. Suppose you finish it by imagining what father is saying as he points proudly to the place where the home nest is to be, without fear of dispossession notices. What is the wife saying as her happy face is turned in the same direction and her dancing eyes reveal the ecstasy within her heart? Or daughter, with her dolly—What is she thinking and saying as she dances up and down? Isn't she urging father and mother to "Hurry up and let's go in"?

What are you doing to bring the dream of your whole lifetime thus far to fruition? Are you seeking the FULFILLMENT OF LIFE'S GREATEST AMBITION by the attainment of HOME OWNERSHIP?

It may not be easy, but it is never as difficult as you think. The family who aspires to home ownership is encouraged and assisted on every hand. The land owner grants time, if you wish. The material dealer puts his choicest wares into the home. The contractor is ten times more careful when building a HOME than when putting up merely "rent houses". And there are architects who are putting all their skill and thought into the designing of real homes for you to enjoy.

This is but another evidence of service made possible through the co-operation and support of the following representative business firms who are responsible for this weekly forward movement Home Building Campaign.

REFORESTATION PLAN BEING CONSIDERED
Janesville—Plans of securing paper manufacturers of Wisconsin and probably Minnesota and Michigan to outline a program of reforestation and the prevention are being considered as a result of a meeting of paper and pulp manufacturers at Wausau this week where a state association was organized. Elmer S. Hall, state director of conservation, stated that the conference of paper manufacturers will not be held until early next year. It was said. It will be at some northern Wisconsin city, under temporary plans.

Eighteen paper mills in Wisconsin were represented at the Wausau conference, which was sponsored by the American Pulp and Paper Manufacturers' Association. Methods for launching a forest conservation campaign were considered. D. C. Evers of Itasca was elected president of the association which was formed.

Paper mill manufacturers are coming to realize that there is great need for a campaign for conservation and prevention. Commissioner Hall said. It is because of this that they favor a conservation program.

W. W. TO DEDICATE LOVEJOY TABLET

Other Features Planned for Fall Membership Rally Next Saturday.

The fall membership rally Saturday night, Nov. 3, is the big event on the W. W. C. A. calendar for the coming week. Notable features of the rally program will be the dedication of the Lovejoy Memorial tablet, and an address on "The Basis of W. W. C. A. Membership" by Miss Mabel Head, national lecturer. The Athletic association will arrange a program of games and serve refreshments.

Educational classes that are now meeting regularly are as follows: Monday night, plain sewing; Tuesday night, patchwork, shades, Italian work; Wednesday night, supplication class. Other classes will not begin until after Thanksgiving. The educational committee will meet Tuesday night.

Junior Girl Reserves will have a Halloween party in the association rooms, Tuesday at 6 o'clock.

"There are no doubt some who like myself, did not come to Christian Science to be healed of sickness, but who like myself, have since had ample proof of the efficacy of the application of those rules which Mrs. Eddy has laid down in her textbook."

"In my own case, when still a medical student, I wondered that the medical profession, adding as it does that there is a certain mental factor in disease, never made more effort to know more of it. It is true that medical colleges taught, and still teach, what is called the science of medicine, yet they little realize the effect of human thinking on the body, and the average physician fails to see that his science is really a science of the mind."

His audibly expressed fears for his patient, together with his silent thought of fear of an unfavorable outcome, are much more potent factors in disease than the physical which he generally administers after he has carried out his material measures, and which are statements that he, himself, very seldom believes.

Mental Healing Applied
"From the moment I started to practice medicine until I stopped the practice, some nine years later, this mental factor in disease was the subject of constant investigation," Dr. Hubbard said. "By the time I had practiced four years I had reached the conviction that disease is entirely mental, and I began to search for the best method of mental healing. I read various books and treatises and compared them, and among them was the Christian Science textbook. At first I was unable to distinguish between them, but finally the teaching of Christian Science began to stand out distinctly from the rest and I saw that it differed from the others in that it was not suggestive or psychological practice but the statement of divine law."

"But this consciousness did not come all at once, for it was five years from the time when I first glimpsed the truth of Christian Science until I arrived at the point where I gave up the practice of medicine. This was due in part to the fact that the exigencies of a busy practice made non-medical study an impossibility for considerable periods of time, and in part to the fact that I did not at once attain the courage necessary to give up a work with which I was familiar, and which I had become well established for method of healing with which I had had at that time no personal experience. It is only fair to say that never have I had greater evidence of the efficacy and care of divine Love than in this experience of changing from medical practice to the practice of divine healing as taught in Christian Science."

Teaching of Science
"Now Christian Science teaches that man is the manifestation of his Maker. The Bible is the passage declaring that God made man in His image, after His likeness, is stating an inevitable conclusion. God could not make man unlike Himself, and man must express the divine nature and character. The product is always like the source from which it proceeds."

"When we examine the various terms which men have used to express their unfolding understanding of God, we find that in these terms there is pictured nothing material, but a God who is infinite Spirit, pressing Himself in thoughts; a God who is divine Mind; who gives all to His children. Jesus pictured our divine inheritance when in the parable of the prodigal son the father says, 'Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine.' God causes man to reflect His likeness."

"It is true that God's creation is spiritual, we shall have to dispose of the so-called creations of matter, which are the result of the material creation is but a manifestation of beliefs that are the opposite of, or counterfeits of divine law. Mrs. Eddy has demonstrated all this in a clear, simple, and convincing manner. The divine Mind, not of Spirit, but of Truth, as mortal mind, but she points out that mortal mind is only a name which she has given to beliefs which are really not mind, because divine Mind is omnipresent and there is no place for a mind opposed to God."

"It is not maintained by Christian Scientists that the material beliefs about man and the universe do not seem real to the human consciousness, but experience has shown that they are real. The material beliefs have become more and more spiritual in our thinking."

FT. ATKINSON M. E. CHURCH

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
 Fort Atkinson—Fort Atkinson Methodist church had its beginning in 1837 when the old Atkinson circuit was organized by the Illinois conference. This circuit included all the settled portions of Wisconsin east of Madison.

The first class in Fort Atkinson was organized in the winter of 1839 and 1840 by Rev. T. W. Trunk at the home of Jesse F. Trunk who was living on the farm owned by S. A. Rice. The members of this class were Jesse R. O'Leary, Betsy Roberts, Franklin Roberts, Sarah Roberts, Martha Fallows and two or three others.

Meetings at Homes.
 After the class was organized, meetings were held at the homes of the settlers and on special occasions, under the forest trees, in barns, or any place that was large enough to accommodate the worshipers. For some time the meetings were held in a cooper shop that stood not far from where the Lyric Theater now is.

In 1844 a school house was built, and the Methodists took turns with the other churches in using it.

In 1850, the following resolution was passed: "Resolved that we build a meeting house, for the Methodist Episcopal church in the village of Fort Atkinson, 35 feet by 45 feet, with 15 feet postals."

The building was finished in 1852. Rev. T. C. Hollister was the first pastor with $400.00 yearly salary. In 1874 under the pastorate of S. C. Thomas the old windows of 7 by 9 glass were taken out and new ones of stained glass were put in. The audience room was frescoed and papered, the improvements costing about $700.

The present church building was built during the pastorate of J. J. Hartley in 1892. In 1909, when Rev. E. W. Mager was pastor, a dining room, kitchen and rest room were built in the basement of the church.

During the present year the church has been remodeled and enlarged so that the congregation has a building fully equipped to do efficient work. There is a church membership of 331, a Sunday school membership of 478.

The Pastor, Rev. C. A. Reetz, is a graduate of Williams University, Oregon and of Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Illinois, holding a B. D. degree from Williams, and an M. A. degree from Northwestern University. He was a student pastor at Salem, Wisconsin for 4 years, pastor at Lake Mills one year, and is serving his second year at Fort Atkinson. Mr. and Mrs. Reetz are visiting workers and it is largely through their efforts that the church has been brought to completion. The church will be rededicated Sunday, October 28.

BRODHEAD

Brodhead—Well toward a hundred Knights of Pythias of the local lodge assembled at the lodge chamber Thursday night to greet Grand Chancellor Fred Larsen, Delavan, Fred W. Gilman, Evansville, Grand vice chancellor and John Eager, grand master at arms, Racine, who made an official visit at the lodge here. After the regular business a class of three candidates were initiated in the first rank and the visiting officers assisted in the work, which was followed by talks from the grand officers. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ballou departed Thursday morning for Long Beach, California, where they expect to make their home. They spent the summer with Brodhead relatives. Mrs. F. H. Burns went to Beloit Thursday to make a short visit to friends.

Mrs. Julius Gritzmaker spent Thursday in Janesville. City librarian Jessie B. Sprague went to Madison Thursday.

Mrs. Ed Caple was a visitor in Janesville Thursday.

Mrs. Chas. Richter and baby of Janesville, were in Brodhead Thursday for a short stay.

Mrs. Chas. Gilbert who has been at the home of George Gilbert in Allwaukee for a week, returned home Thursday.

V. I. Corson of Juda, had business in Brodhead Thursday evening.

F. E. Collier returned Thursday evening from a visit to Chicago.

17 ARE GRANTED BUILDING PERMITS

Weekly Review Shows Three New Houses, Five Garages and Other Jobs

Seventeen building permits have been issued in Janesville during the week ending Saturday, three of them for new houses, several for garages and some for remodeling and alterations.

Frederic Drummond will erect a frame dwelling, 28 by 32, at 607 South Franklin street at a cost of $3,000 and will also build a private garage, 18 by 18, for $150, in the same location.

D. K. Hubbard plans to build a $3,300 frame house, 22 by 26, at 310 North Pearl street.

L. L. Cuts will construct a $2,700 frame home, 20 by 40, at 1610 Ravine street.

Other permits have been issued as follows:

Garage—Darrel O. Wood, 534 South Franklin street, frame garage, 10 by 14, $150; Mrs. Estelle McDaniels, 1124, $150; Bennett street, 12 by 15, $150; Edward Gillette, 520 South Jackson street, 10 by 16, $100; Mrs. Laura Arneson, 115 Centor avenue, 10 by 18, $125; and Congregational church, $250.

Alterations, remodeling and repairs—H. J. Cunningham, 533 South Bull street, alterations, $500; Trinity church, 11th and 12th streets, alterations, $500; 11 South Wisconsin street, shingling roof, $500; Henry Hansen, 603 North Chatham street, remodeling and raising, $300; F. J. E. Wood, 508 St. Lawrence avenue, remodeling, $300; William McNeil, 315 Jackson street, alterations, $300; George G. Sutherland, 5-11 shoulder injury. The rest of the team is in fine physical condition and are ready to redeem themselves after the defeat of last week. The outlook presages a stormy trip for the Miltons.

Coach Agnew's squad should not experience any trouble in disposing of the collegians, after their 20-7 defeat by Northwestern who suffered a 16-3 decision at the hands of the Purple in the opening game of the season. A much smoother working machine will face Milton than that which met Oshkosh.

London.—France's note accepting Great Britain's invitation to participate in a committee of experts for reexamination of Germany's capacity to pay reparations was received today at the foreign office.

It is understood that it sets forth three conditions as essential preliminary before France can give full approval to the conference. These are:

That the committee shall operate under the aegis of the present War-called reparation commission.

That the committee shall not be invested with authority to reduce the total indemnity figure from Germany, which France regards as a matter for agreement among the powers.

That Germany must give more complete and effective guarantees for the cessation of passive resistance.

One Month's Work by New City Manager

Janesville likes its first city manager and councilmen are being congratulated on their choice of Henry Traxler as the man for the job. Those who have become acquainted with him and have seen him in action during the seven weeks he has served are convinced that a wise selection has been made and are pledging the manager their full co-operation in bringing about a more efficient and businesslike administration in Janesville, at the same time accomplishing greater results.

Mr. Traxler is discarding archaic methods and systems whose only excuse for existence has been largely tradition and the fact that nobody cared, or else did not have the courage to modernize them. False economy ideas are being eliminated and in general the city is beginning to operate along the lines of a corporation and not as a political machine.

Not a "Little King"

As opposed to the pre-election predictions that a city manager, especially an outsider, would "let himself up as a little king and listen to no one," the city manager is intensely human. While he resents dictatorial efforts and interference, Mr. Traxler welcomes the advice and suggestions of any citizen. While he may not follow them, it is certain he will do his best to bring the greatest good to the greatest number.

"He certainly knows his business" is the comment most commonly heard from those in closest touch with him. But he is modest about it and doesn't pretend to "know it all."

Not Interested in Politics

Mr. Traxler is familiar with almost every problem that confronts a city, through his years of practical experience in work for the government and as city manager of Clarinda, Ia. He is quick to grasp situations and has sound ideas and convictions about governmental questions, those who know him declare.

He has declared himself as uninterested in local politics and doesn't intend to play any political game, he says.

After looking over the city and inspecting the various works, Mr. Traxler recognizes the problem of streets as one of the most important ones here. With that end in view, two tractor graders have been purchased along with three dump-body motor trucks so that the work might be handled more efficiently and at the same time bring much better results. Forces have been sent and the street department completely motorized. Purchase of a pick-up sweeper is the next thing proposed.

Plans Still in Making

Although Mr. Traxler has brought about many changes in the brief time he has been here, his plans are still only in the making and even greater changes are expected in the future as he becomes better established. Motorization of the fire department, new street signs, a new roadway into Riverside park and many other improvements are on the 1924 program.

After going through the ordeal of making five speeches during his first two weeks in Janesville, Mr. Traxler has settled down to work, which he much prefers to speech-making. One of the biggest jobs so far was the drawing up of the budget for next year, which was accomplished by bringing about a $10.05 reduction in the city tax rate, at the same time providing for all the regular activities of the city government and many new ones.

Bonds are Abolished

Here are some of the most interesting things accomplished in the city in the last seven weeks by the manager and council.

Twelve old council committees, health board and water works board abolished.

New and more simplified bookkeeping system installed and water department consolidated with general finance office, making possible the elimination of three women employees.

Budget for 1924 drawn, showing $40,000 decrease from 1923 budget and $1.05 cut in tax rate, despite decrease of $500,000 in assessed valuation.

Police force cut from 14 to 11 men and three cars bought for patrolling the outlying stores and residential districts.

Street department motorized by addition of two tractor graders and three dump-trucks. Office of street commissioner abolished and work taken over by engineering department. Four remaining horses sold and barn transformed into a big garage.

Seventeen sewer districts abolished and city made one sewer district.

Manager authorized to buy four lots adjoining high school property on the north.

Old roadsters of inspectors and others replaced with new ones.

Weekly quizzes on alarm boxes and fire hydrants instituted in fire department.

Forty-two "School" signs were bought to warn traffic.

City gravel pit on North Bluff street bought, cost $5,500.

Paving under viaduct completed.

Fifty dollars a month saving made on contract for water department.

NEW PASTOR OF U. B. CHURCH IS NATIVE OF OHIO

REV. O. S. LONG

The Rev. O. S. Long, new pastor of the United Brethren church, who arrived here a short time ago, was born in Knox county, Ohio. He received his earlier education at the school at Jellison, O., and attended the preparatory schools for four years at Greenown academy. He finished his education with three years at Wooster university, from which he graduated.

Mr. Long spent 15 years in an iron works at Marion, O., before entering the ministry. He is 38 years old and has been 15 years in the ministry. He was pastor at Marshalltown, Ia., for a period of six years, and served for one year in Nebraska, and also was in the pastorate at Marion, O. He was at Vinton, Ia., for the past two years until it was decided at the conference to transfer him to Janesville. Mr. Long is anticipating his work here with pleasure.

City Attorneys Talk Bank Taxes

Roger G. Cunningham, city attorney, was present at the conference of city attorneys of Wisconsin held in the office of John M. Niven, city attorney of Milwaukee. The discussion was relative to the new state law pertaining to the taxing of banks. The new law involves some of the most complicated legal problems which led to an all day discussion by the city attorneys of all cities in Wisconsin over 10,000 population.

As a result a uniform attitude on the part of the cities of the state was arrived at. Mr. Cunningham said.

Fred J. Eaton, corporation counsel of Oshkosh, who instigated the meeting, was chairman.

CANNOT EMPLOY ANY ONE TO MAKE RECORDS

Madison—County boards cannot employ anyone other than the register of deeds of each county to take tract index of county records when none have existed, an opinion from the attorney general's department to District Attorney Frank S. Symonds, Kenosha holds.

The opinion declares that the state laws require the register of deeds to do such work at a maximum pay of two cents per word.

The Kenosha county board had planned to employ a special officer at $3,000 a year to make a tract index.

Ford

More than 100 cents for the dollar—Either new or old

What a Ford is worth is easily determined by the value placed on the three new Fords just traded in for other makes of Cars at a difference of less than $300.00. According to this difference, and the price of the cars which were traded for proves that the Fords were traded in for more than their cost, in other words A PREMIUM WAS PAID to get them by the other dealer.

This is not alone a fact with new Fords. Other dealers also give more than the market value for used Fords in trade for the cars that they are selling. Some dealers pay as high as $100.00 more for a Ford car than its appraised real market value, which proves conclusively that the Ford is the best BUY at all times.

A Ford is your best investment, because when you get ready to sell it you can usually dispose of it at a real price for cash or some other Dealer will be glad to have it. This cannot be said of any other make of car. If you don't believe it, investigate, and try to trade in another make of car, and you will be surprised to know that 80% of the Dealers will not accept anything else but Fords. 20% will accept in trade some other choice make of car, but none will allow you more than their appraised real value.

Ford Cars Are Sold On Their Merits

Janesville Automobile buyers purchased new Fords since January 1st, and 100 more will purchase before December 31st. These conservative buyers bought Ford cars because they wanted to get 100% value for their money, realizing that Fords rank first in production—quality—service—and resale value.

If you are not numbered among the 8,600,000 happy Ford owners now is the time to enroll. We can make reasonable prompt delivery at the lowest possible price on terms to suit you.

The Ford Service is second to none. It is Service backed up by 42,000 AUTHORIZED FORD SERVICE DEALERS that are equipped and can render almost minute service.

Compare the price of the Ford with the price of any other make of car, and you will realize that there is a great difference not alone in its original cost and service, but in its trade-in value.

GAZETTE GOOD TIMES CLUB FOR ALL SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS

EDITED BY MISS FLORENCE SLOAN HYDE.

Honor standards for Good Times club athletic tests will be based on the weight for those taking tests, rather than age or school grades. There will be three weight classes. This of November 1 tests will be taken by pupils weighing 60 to 80 lbs. Class 2 will be weighing from 80 to 100 lbs. Class 3 will be for those weighing over 100 lbs. Standards and tests for boys and girls will differ somewhat. November tests will be as follows:

Baseball Distance. Throw 100 feet. Boys: Class 1, honor standard, 100 feet; Class 2, honor standard, 125 feet; Class 3, honor standard, 150 feet. Girls: Class 1, 50 feet; Class 2, 75 feet; Class 3, 100 feet.

This event may be conducted on the road. The starting line is clearly marked on the ground. Measure with a tape line or yard stick, a distance of 50 feet and mark the point clearly. Then measure 20 feet further and mark, and so on until the honor standard distance for each class and sex is marked off. The width of the road shall constitute the area in which a throw may be counted.

Baseball Accuracy Throw. Make a target 15 by 24 inches of wood to represent the area within which a "strike" must be thrown. Suspend this target on a fence so that the lower edge is 24 inches from the ground. A strike is made when the ball hits the target directly and shall stand facing the target, with both feet upon the line marking the distance from which his class is to throw. In throwing the ball, he may step forward with one foot, but the other foot must remain upon the line when the ball is thrown. Class and honor standards for this test shall be as follows: Boys: Class 1, three strikes out of six throws, delivered from 150 feet in front of target; Class 2, three strikes out of six throws from a line 35 feet distant; Class 3, three strikes out of five throws from a line 40 feet distant.

It may require considerable practice to reach the honor standard in these tests. Twenty points are to be allowed for the individual honor contest to each pupil who succeeds in passing both of these tests during the month of November. Ten points will be allowed for passing one test.

AGE AND WEIGHT. According to age, height and weight cards issued by the state board of health, boys 8 to 10 years should qualify in the 50 to 80 pound class. Boys over 10 and under 12½ years should range in weight from 52 to 81 pounds. Boys over 12½ years should weigh over 81 pounds. Girls 8 to 10 years should weigh 50 to 60 pounds; over 10 years and under 12½ years, 55 to 75 pounds; over 12½ years, a little less than 13 years may be expected to reach class 3 in weight. Of course, height makes a difference as to weight, and pupils should have at a certain age. On the other hand, athletic directors have found that weight has, as a rule, more to do with physical ability than age or height, and this basis of classification is now being used quite generally. Age and weight figures given herein are for weight with clothing. Pupils should be weighed on a reliable scale once a month to ascertain their weight class for athletic tests. This is quite essential for those pupils who may be near the border line between two weight classes.

A playground baseball should be used for both tests. This type of ball is more suitable for school use than the league baseball and is not expensive. The purchase of a new playground ball will count ten points in the interschool pennant contest.

STATE TEACHERS MEETING. How many delegates will Rock and Walworth counties have to represent the rural schools in the business transactions at the meeting of the Wisconsin Teachers' association in Milwaukee, November 8 and 9? The number of delegates will depend on the number of teachers who pay membership dues to the county association treasurers prior to the opening of the convention. Miss Mabel Rosenbauer, Elkhorst, is the Walworth county treasurer, and Miss Marie Ludden, of the county superintendent's staff, is receiving dues from Rock county teachers. Each county has two delegates at last year's convention, besides those elected from the locals in Whitewater, Janesville, Beloit, Lake, and Delavan. One delegate is elected for each 50 paid-up members. Walworth county teachers elected three delegates at a meeting held last Saturday. Rock county teachers are requested to send their first and second choice for delegates to Miss Ludden by November 1. Those who have not paid their membership dues should send the $2 fee with their vote for delegates. It is explained that the local associations

Plans are being made for an inter-utility meeting for public utilities of Janesville at the Y. M. C. A. at 6:30 p. m. Nov. 6.

It will be a get-together meeting, according to William R. Schmidley, manager of the Janesville Electric company, who sponsored the meeting which will include the other employees of all public utilities in Janesville.

One hundred and twenty-five are expected to attend, with the Janesville Electric company, the New Gas Light company, the city water department, the Wisconsin Telephone company, the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph company represented.

Mr. Schmidley has secured as a speaker W. S. Vivian, of the department of public relations of the Midwestern Utilities company. W. C. Sparks, Rockford, general manager of the Rockford and Interurban company, is expected to be present. Janesville is unique in the state in having a group of public utilities which are separate and distinct organizations, having no connection with any other one in the city.

Des Moines—Charles A. Rockwood, Des Moines business man, who disappeared from a fishing lodge near Alton, La., in a dazed condition, returned to his home last night. Rockwood said he was unable to explain his wanderings. A blow on the head at Phoenix is believed to have restored, in part, his lost memory.

do not get credit on their delegate quota for members who pay dues at the convention.

President Frank S. Eyer, Whitewater normal, is president of the state association. In an address to Walworth county teachers last Saturday, Dr. Eyer said: "This association is the one organization that is in a position to truly represent the teachers in working for the right kind of educational legislation. The rural schools should be well represented in business transactions of the association because the greatest problem in Wisconsin is better rural school conditions. He explained further that under a plan just adopted, the official organ of the association is to be sent to all members and to members only, as no other subscription list will be maintained. Members are eligible to attend all sessions of the convention, but only the regularly-elected delegates vote in the association election and on association policies.

National Education Week. The last week of November is designated by the U. S. bureau of education as "national education week." All schools are asked to observe "community day," Friday November 23. It is suggested that a meeting for parents be held in either the afternoon or evening, and that the program consist of discussion of local school problems. The school officers and teacher may each have something to say as to what the parents may do to cooperate in making the school more efficient. This would be an excellent time to organize a community club or parent-teacher association. Suggestions for the formation and activities of such organizations will be furnished free by the Gazette community service department.

FOR YOUNGER PUPILS. Pupils under 8 years are not required to pass the above tests, but may, at the discretion of the teacher, practice throwing the ball. The following tests are prescribed for children under eight years or weighing less than 50 pounds:

Bean Bag Throw. Make a receptacle by using one box 18 inches square and another about 10 inches square. Fasten the smaller box inside the larger one and set at 45 degree angle. Pupils practice throwing five bean bags in succession from a distance of 12 feet. The honor standard shall be three bags in the smaller box out of five throws.

Bean Bag Catch. The teacher or play-leader throws five bean bags in succession to a child from a distance of 12 feet. Three catches out of five throws shall be the honor standard. Any pupil that makes a bean bag for these tests and other school games may be awarded 5 points on his record for November in the individual honor contest. Each school that makes the bean bag apparatus as described will be awarded 10 points in the pennant contest.

HEALTH HONOR ROLL. The following pupils are reported by Miss Anna Gustafson, Rock county nurse, as winning a place on the good health honor roll for normal weight and no physical defects, in examinations made during the week ending, October 20:

Flora Vioy, Dist. 4, Johnston—Gladys Pitt, Helen Schultz, Vivian

Sturdevant, Berens, Dist. 8, Johnston—Margaret Fanning, Phillip Sumoling, Bernice Newton, Mary Manning, Orville Koshish.

TWO NEW BRANCHES. Two new branches of the Good Times club are reported for the past week. Hickory Grove, district, Bradford, sends enrolments for 26 pupils. Mrs. Jennie M. Stark is the teacher, members are: Ethel Bradt, Ethel Tucker, Esther Dunn, William Stark, Hans Hansen, Fredrick Schutte, Agnes, Harry, Carl and Louis Nelson, Palmer, Stanley, Sophie and Bernard Larsen, Hazel, Verna, Myrtle, Esther and Nina Johnson, Raymond, Kenneth, Donald and Marie Schford, Edward, Ruth and Louise Schultz.

White River, dist. 6, Lyons township, Walworth county, sends enrolments for 14 pupils as follows: Edward Gauger, Agnes Mueller, Gordon Malsch, Selma Kreuger, Violet Vorpagel, Emma and Walter Smith, Edwin, Travis, Walter Mueller, Sam Malsch, Lester, and Lawrence Gauger, Herman and Clarence Smith. The teacher is Miss Mary J. Stallman.

MOTION PICTURE SCHEDULE. The Gazette motion picture entertainment schedule for the coming week is as follows: Tuesday, October 26, Vicksburg school; Wednesday, Rock River school; Thursday, Con school; Friday, Newville school. The following program has been booked for these entertainments: "Taming of the Shrew" 2 reel comedy drama; "Golden Looks and the Three Bears" 1 reel children's feature; "Striking Ties" 1 reel comedy; "Glacier Park" 1 reel travel; Gazette film, "The Making of a Newspaper," 1 reel.

November 3, is the only date booked for week after next. Lenoir school will have a program on that date. The following program has been booked for that week: "The Little White Girl" 2 reel Mary McAllister plays "Striking Ties" 1 reel comedy; Northwind's masonry, one reel scenery and nature study; "Child of My Heart" 1 reel photograph.

Kind school, route 1 Whitewater, will have a program November 14. Other dates that week are still open. The following films have been booked: "The Making of a Newspaper," 1 reel; "The Making of a Newspaper," 1 reel; "The Making of a Newspaper," 1 reel.

The Community club of Johnston center will have a program November 17 and Mary Miles school has booked Nov. 21. Millard state graded school, Walworth county, has requested a program in November but has not yet accepted a definite date.

Salvation Army
Total Is $4,500;
6 Stoves Offered

Six responses came to the Salvation Army as a result of the appeal made in the Gazette for a cook stove to give to a needy family.

The Day nursery has had a daily attendance of around 20 children for the past two weeks. Transportation is now being furnished night and morning for 13 children, and five children are taken to and from school. Mr. and Mrs. David Ackerman, have been employed to assist the staff of three officers. The five workers are operating the day nursery and carrying on relief work and other activities. Water heating facilities have been placed in the bathroom, but it is probable that no other repairs will be made this year.

Detailed plans and the apportioning funds secured in the drive will be decided upon at an advisory committee meeting to be held soon. It is expected that organization of the permanent advisory board will be effected at this meeting, which will be held on a date when Earl Jeffrey, Milwaukee, program director for the Lake division, can be present.

Cash receipts from the local drive now total $4,500, with around $800 in pledges. A complete check-up has not been made to date on the number of pledges made during the drive and paid within the last few days, so that the exact amount of outstanding pledges cannot be stated.

Liquor Owner Is Handed $100 Fine

Monroe—J. W. Kille, Monticello, was acquitted of charges of destruction of evidence in the raid on the Emil Schwitzer home in Monticello, July 6 by a jury in circuit court. Schwitzer pleaded guilty to possession of liquor and was fined $100 and costs.

All criminal cases ready for trial were disposed of by Friday afternoon and Judge George Grimm announced an adjournment until Monday. The case of George Moore, Brodhead, comes up next week. Civil cases will occupy the attention of the court next week.

PRESBYTERIANS WILL HAVE "CHURCH DAY"

A Council of Church Life and Work has been formed by the Presbyterian church here, consisting of the Session and heads of all church activities. One of the first projects of the new organization will be setting aside Thursday of each week as "Church Day."

JUDGE IS GUEST AT CHURCH BANQUET

Monroe—Judge George Grimm was honor guest at a banquet at St. John's Evangelical church, Judge Grimm lauded the work of Pastor

P. A. Schuh and told of his friendship for the minister.

LOCAL TOURISTS CAMP IN KANSAS

Mr. and Mrs. Guy H. Shaw and family, Janesville, were among 30 tourist parties registered at the tourist camp in McPherson, Kas., from Oct. 20 to 23. They are headed for Long Beach, Calif. The majority of those registered at the Kansas camp those three days are enroute to California points.

WILL DEDICATE CHURCH
Monroe—Dedication of the United Brethren church here will be Dec. 3, with Bishop H. F. Post, Indianapolis, in charge.

as an

Overland and Willys-Knight Dealer
in Janesville and Vicinity

Mr. Prielipp is a pioneer in the Automobile business, having been in that one line in Janesville for the past twenty years. It is with this broad experience and knowledge of Automobiles that makes Mr. Prielipp confident, that the Overland and Willys-Knight are THE cars he can best represent in Janesville and vicinity.

Overland—a Car of Proven Performance

The Overland represents the concentrated efforts of one of the largest automobile-manufacturing organizations in the world to furnish the American public with luxurious motoring at the lowest possible cost. The Overland ideal is the production of a car that the average American family may take pride in, may spend many happy hours in, may drive for years with out trouble or expensive upkeep; the motor car for every American family.

Willys-Knight Built to Match Its Marvelous Motor

Did you ever talk with a Willys-Knight owner—or, better yet, several of them? If not, you can't fully appreciate just what a remarkable car the Willys-Knight is. It seems capable of arousing more real enthusiasm on the part of owners than any automobile you have ever known. Why? Principally because its unfailing performance and almost unvarying ease of operation have absolutely revolutionized the ideas of thousands of motorists as to what a good motor car should be.

The Step on the Stair

I did not smile this time, grimly or otherwise, as I turned away from this supposition. I also stood, and started by the sound which was such as had never left my lips before. I rose with a bound from my chair, resolved to drop the whole matter from my mind and calm myself by returning to my task of looking over and sorting out my effects. Otherwise I should get no sleep.

What was it? It was hardly a noise, yet somebody was astride in the house and not very far from my door. Listening, I caught the sound of heavy breathing in the hall outside, and slipping out of bed, crossed to the door and suddenly pulled it wide open.

A face confronted me, every feature distinct in the flood of moonlight pouring into the room from the opposite window. Alarm and repugnance were in the eyes, and the face was the face of Edgar and no other, and, as in my astonishment I started backward, he spoke.

"I was told—by you—that you were ill—that groans were heard coming from this room. I—I am glad it is not so. Pardon me for waking you." Almost unconsciously, I staggered slightly as he disappeared down the hall. A moment later I heard his voice raised further on, then a door slammed and after that, quiet.

Confounded, for the man was shaken by emotion, I sat down on the edge of the bed and tried to compose my thoughts. I was not to understand the meaning of this surprising episode.

Automatically, I looked at my watch. It was just three. Had I associations with that hour? What were they? Suddenly I remembered. It was the hour I visited my uncle's door the night before his death, when Wealthy—

The name steadied the rush and counter-rush of swirling, not-to-be-controlled thoughts. Mr. Jackson had spoken of an experiment to be made by the police for the purpose of determining whether the shadow Wealthy professed to have seen about that time fitting in with the wall further down would be visible from the place where she stood.

Had they been trying this? Had he heard the one? There was no thoroughfare in this direction. And wanted to death, I sank back on my pillow and after a few restless minutes fell into a heavy sleep.

Next day the thunderbolt fell. Entering Mr. Jackson's office, I found him quite alone. He was alone. I thought the man was almost a stranger to me and I had very little knowledge of his face or its play of expression. I felt sure that the look with which he greeted me was not common to him and that so far as he was concerned, my cause had rather gained than lost in interest since our last meeting.

"You did not telephone me last night," were his first words. "No," I said, "there was really no occasion."

"Yet something very important happened in your house between three and four in the morning."

"If I thought," I began, "that I knew so little what that I dared not call you up for anything so informal again, but in the night—"

"Go on, I want to hear."

"My cousin, Edgar, came to my door in a state of extreme agitation. He had been told that I was ill. I was not, but he said that I had not seen why I should have been so affected by the news. I am a trial to him; an incubus; a rival whom he must hate. Why should he shiver at sight of me and 'whin away to his room'?"

"It was odd. You had heard nothing previously, then, and I was fortunate enough to be asleep."

"And this being a silent drama you did not wake."

"Not till the time I said."

He was very slow, and I very eager, but I restrained myself. The peculiarity observable in his manner had increased rather than diminished. He seemed on fire to speak, yet unaccountably hesitated, turning away from my direct gaze and busying himself with some little thing on his desk. I began to feel impatient and inclined to speak the very words which I had refused to utter.

And now for a confession. There was something in my own mind which I had refused to bare even to my own perceptions. Something from which I shrink and yet which would intrude itself at moments like these. Could it be that I was about to hear, put in words, what I had never so much as whispered to myself?

It was several minutes later and after much had been said before I learned. He began with explanations. "A woman is the victim of her own emotions. On that point Wealthy had been on the watch for hours either in the hall or in the sick room. She had seen you and another come and go under circumstances very agitating to one so devoted to the family. She was, therefore, not in a purely normal condition when she started up from her nap to settle a question upon which the life of a man might possibly hang."

"At least this was how the police reasoned. So they put off the experiment upon which the uselessness of expecting anything of a secret nature to take place in the house while her light was still burning and her figure guarded the hall, induced her to enter the room from which she might hope to see a repetition of what had happened on that fatal night. I honor the police. We could not do without them. Their methods are sometimes—well, sometimes a little misleading."

TODAY'S RECIPES
Prepping Apples for Baking—If you are not able to get a round knife for coring apples, take an old tin spoon and use it to make a long slender spoon which fits the size of the core. Turn this around a couple of times and your apple is cored.

Pop Corn Banana Salad—When making banana salad, try substituting pop corn in place of the walnuts or peanuts that are usually used. Cut the bananas in halves lengthwise and place on lettuce leaves. Decorate with salad dressing and pop corn. The result is very artistic and economical.

Sweet Potato Croquettes—Two cups mashed potato, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon cayenne, one-half teaspoon paprika, one egg (beaten), one-half cup chopped nuts, two teaspoons bread crumbs. Mix in order given, make into croquettes, roll into beaten egg and bread crumbs, fry in deep fat.

Planked Steak and Tomatoes—Score steak and dust both sides with flour. Put in hot pan; turn often and cook slowly till tender—about forty-five minutes. Remove to hot platter. In same pan slice six medium ripe tomatoes one-quarter inch thick; dip in flour and fry in the fat in which the meat has cooked; also fry onion. Sprinkle with salt and brown carefully and when soft and brown remove and arrange around meat. Now pour milk into pan, let boil and add cream and onion. Season with salt and pepper. This makes a delicious dinner served with boiled rice.

SUGGESTIONS
For Glove Fasteners—When the shappers come off your gloves (either silk or fabric), take off the entire set of fasteners and sew on small pearl buttons, working a neat, strong buttonhole on the opposite side of the glove. Use thread to match color of gloves. This is a durable fastening.

Protect the Walls—When you wish to paint woodwork and not smudge the walls, use a strip of cardboard 18 inches by 6 inches and place next to the woodwork, moving it along as you paint under your hand. In this way the walls are kept off walls. Amateurs will find painting a much simpler task if they follow this method.

An Improved Coat Hanger—It is convenient to remember when traveling that a coat hanger can be improvised in a few minutes by rolling up a newspaper and taping it tightly and tying a piece of cord through the center, leaving a loop with which to hang it up.

To Cut Hand Smooth—To cut hand butter in a nice smooth place for the table, without its crumbling or sticking to the fingers, take a piece of the paper with which it has been wrapped and place it over the edge of the blade, and cut the butter with the blade thus covered.

To Clean Irons—Clean your irons on newspaper; you will find that the result is excellent.

SCHEME AIMED AT TAX EXEMPT BONDS

Heavier Inheritance Tax Is Suggested to Get at Big Fortunes.

Washington.—A plan to circumvent the flow of money into tax exempt securities has been proposed to high officials of the government who are studying it now to see whether it will stand the acid test of legality.

The idea is to levy a special and additional inheritance tax upon all kinds of tax exempt securities which are estimated at more than 20 million dollars in the United States. Most of these tax exempt bonds are purchased now and held by the very wealthy in order to defeat the purposes of the income tax. In instance after instance in the last few years the estates of multi-millionaires have been found to be composed largely of these non-taxable securities. If a law could be passed imposing a heavy additional inheritance tax on them, it is believed that it would put a sharp check on the movement of money into the tax exempt securities. Congress has been asked several times to reduce the surtaxes so that there would not be the incentive for the rich to take their money from productive business and put it into non-taxable securities. But always Congress has refused to heed the recommendations.

Blocked Amendment.

In the last congress the house adopted a resolution submitting a constitutional amendment prohibiting all tax-exempt securities. But it was blocked in the senate largely because members from the south did not want to see the municipal and state bonds put on a tax basis, even though they recognized the evil of the present system. Even should congress submit such an amendment it is regarded as certain that sufficient states could not be induced to ratify it.

But if the rich new that the government, by inheritance taxes, would step in and take tax heavier percentage of such securities, it is believed it would greatly ameliorate the problem of tax-exempt bonds and tax dodging.

As long as the income taxes were not heavy, permitting states and municipalities, as well as the federal government, to issue tax-exempt securities was not important. But now that the government levies a maximum tax of 68 per cent on incomes it presents the most serious problem of the day. Finding this method of taxation and the problem will last unless it can be met by some such scheme as suggested.

Men of Wealth Sell Their Estates in Erin

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Dublin.—There is today an exodus from Ireland of members of the wealthy classes. Lord O'Hara and Brown is selling his property in Mayo, and other territorial magnates are taking the same course. Their estates in land, which are operated as a rule by tenants, which transfer them to the tenants at a fixed price, and they have nothing left but their mansion houses and demesnes. The destruction of the past year has wiped out many of the mansions. The fact that a higher income tax is payable in the Free State than in Great Britain and Northern Ireland also accounts for the desire to leave.

The Wagon Wheel

By WILLIAM PATTERSON WHITE
Copyright 1923 by Little, Brown and Company, Boston. Serial rights from McClure Newspaper syndicate.

Silo Thompson, ranchman and his partner, Bill Hawkins, had their contract for their cattle. They agreed that the Hawkins ranch is likely to be through with the government agent, but two unknown cow punchers brand a stray calf with a brand not their own, in order of it. Silo Thompson discovers them in the act and they kill him. The punchers then show suspicion on the Hawkins by hiding the dead man's saddle and bridle there.

Bill Hawkins and his sons, Brice, Hank and Sam, are worried by the idea that there will be an investigation of recent cattle stealings and decide to force Dolly Warren, Pap's niece, to forsake the ranch. Dolly is reluctant because she loves Dolly Hawkins, but she is forced to leave the Hawkins to discuss prices. Dolly refuses to flirt with the sheriff.

"Charlie Shuts is coming here day after tomorrow," said Thorn, controlling himself by an effort, "on his way back from Marysville. I want you to be here, understand."

"He seems to have a lot of business in Marysville, doesn't he?"

"His business is none of your business. All you have to do is tell him along."

"I know," Pap told me. Suppose, during the process of telling, tell in love with him, and then, Thorn?"

"You won't," Thorn told her confidently. "Not while I'm around."

"She, stared at him curiously."

"You're an odd number," you love me, and wanting me to marry you, but you haven't the slightest objection to letting another man make love to me."

"Because that's all he will do, make love to you. That's safe enough. You're no fool. You can manage him. Besides, we need that contract."

"And you claim to love me?"

"Sure I love you. You know it. And some day you're going to love me."

"Is that so? How much of the three hundred dollars are you going to give me?"

"His eyes flicked in spite of himself. "What three hundred?"

"What three hundred? I'd ask what three hundred! I would indeed. Do you suppose we're all infatuated here? You've no idea how your voice carry when you get excited. I wasn't a million miles from the window when you agreed to give your consent to me being used to fool Charlie Shuts for the sum of three hundred dollars. Now what I want to know is how much of the three hundred dollars do I get?"

"Why," said Thorn, "this is a business proposition between me and the rest of the bunch. It's nothing to you."

"Oh, isn't it? We'll see about that. How much of the three hundred do I get?"

Thorn scratched his head. "Well, tell me what you'll do. I don't want much of a job, your own or of it. All you gotta do is be halfway decent to Charlie Shuts. That'll be more fun for you than anything else. No work really. Likely he'll bring you candy and fixins'. Sure he will. So you hadn't ought to want much. How would ten dollars strike you? I'll give it to you now."

He said his hand into his pocket as he spoke.

"Ten dollars," repeated Dolly. "A whole ten dollars you mean to say you'll give me all that money?"

"Sure, I will. What do I care for ten dollars when I like a girl? And I like you, Dolly. Here you are."

He held his hand toward her. In the upturned palm were two five-dollar gold pieces. Instantly she struck them from his hand, sent them spinning across the floor and sprang to her feet.

"Do you think I'd take a nickel of your filthy money?" she cried, her eyes ablaze with anger. "If only asked you to see what you'd say."

"What's goin' on here?" Thus spoke a tremendously fat and blowsy woman standing in the doorway giving into the hall that ran, Southern fashion, the full length of the house.

The blowsy woman was in the indeterminate fifties or sixties, bleary-eyed straggly-haired and a full six feet tall. Witness the four-fifths emptied quart bottle in her right hand.

"What's goin' on here?" she repeated huskily, trundling into the room.

"What you dat-doin' to Dolly?"

"Nothing a-tall, Mom," replied her dutiful eldest. "You better gimme that bottle."

He made as though to take it from her. She promptly thrust it behind her broad hips and wagged a fat finger in his face.

"Lemme have a short drink, any way," he pleaded with cunning and began to slide round her.

But Mom revolved to face him, saying, "Not even a shus-short drink, Thuth-thorny. I know you you'd gup-got drunk. Whu-whu you dui-doin' to Dui-dolly?"

"Nothing, I tell you," impatiently. "You-you're a lu-liar. Yu-you kat-suspicion on the Hawkins by hiding the dead man's saddle and bridle there."

"Yu-you hear! I'm yu-you mo-mother, and I'll l-l-learn you to mum-mind me!"

She bore down on him threateningly. Seeing that her weight crowded two hundred and fifty pounds and her bottle-arm was raised for a blow at his head, there was genuine menace in her voice.

"Gee-ada here!" she bellowed. "Geradda here!"

None of the Hawkins boys, or Pap either, had the nerve to convey any great ever ventured to dispute Mom Hawkins when she was liquorated. Thorn "geradda" in haste. Through the window he addressed words to Dolly. "For Gawd's sake, get that bottle away from her! Don't let her drink the rest of it!"

But Mom was already drinking the rest of it. And, having drunk, she hurled the bottle at the window, framing Thorn's head and shoulders. He ducked just in time and raised his head to see his mother seat her self on the edge of the table and select a butcher knife from the assortment of utensils in the open drawer.

"Whu-whu when Thuth-thorn comes hub-buck," said Mom, testing the edge of the butcher knife with a spatulate thumb. "I'm gup-goin' to cuc-cuc out his throat."

"Shucks, Mom," said the capable and unafraid Dolly. "Thorn ain't coming back. Want me to play for you, Mom?"

"You're a peach," was the answer.

"All right," said Dolly. "Let's go in your room where there's a comfortable chair for me to sit on."

As every one knows, a fiddler in the act of fiddling either stands erect or sits on the straightest-backed hard-seated chair to be had. As to sitting in a comfortable chair, never in the world. But Mom was too far gone to notice the solemnity. She dropped the butcher knife on the table and allowed herself to be steered into the hall and across it to the room she shared with Pap.

Dolly navigated her to the bed, saw her safely seated on the edge of it, and returned to the kitchen for her fiddle and bow. Thorn stood in the kitchen doorway. Dolly put her finger to her lips.

"Go on out somewhere," she whispered. "Leave me alone and I'll have her asleep in two shakes. And keep the others out till supper time—unless you want her to wake up and pull your wool for you all over the place."

Decidedly the latter contingency was to be avoided if possible. "I'll tell the boys," Thorn whispered back and departed on tiptoe.

Dolly returned with her fiddle to Mom's bedroom. Mom, a quart of whisky enlivening her interior, was rocking to and fro on the edge of the bed. Apparently she had grown calmer, for she was crooning to herself. Dolly, a watchful eye upon Mom, seated herself on a chair beside the fireplace and tucked her fiddle under her chin. And as she played she sang:

"I came from Alabama, with my banjo on my knee, I'm gwine to Louisiana, my true love for to see. It rained all night the day I left, The weather it was dry, The sun so hot I froze to death—Susannah, don't you cry! Oh, Susannah, oh, don't you cry for me!"

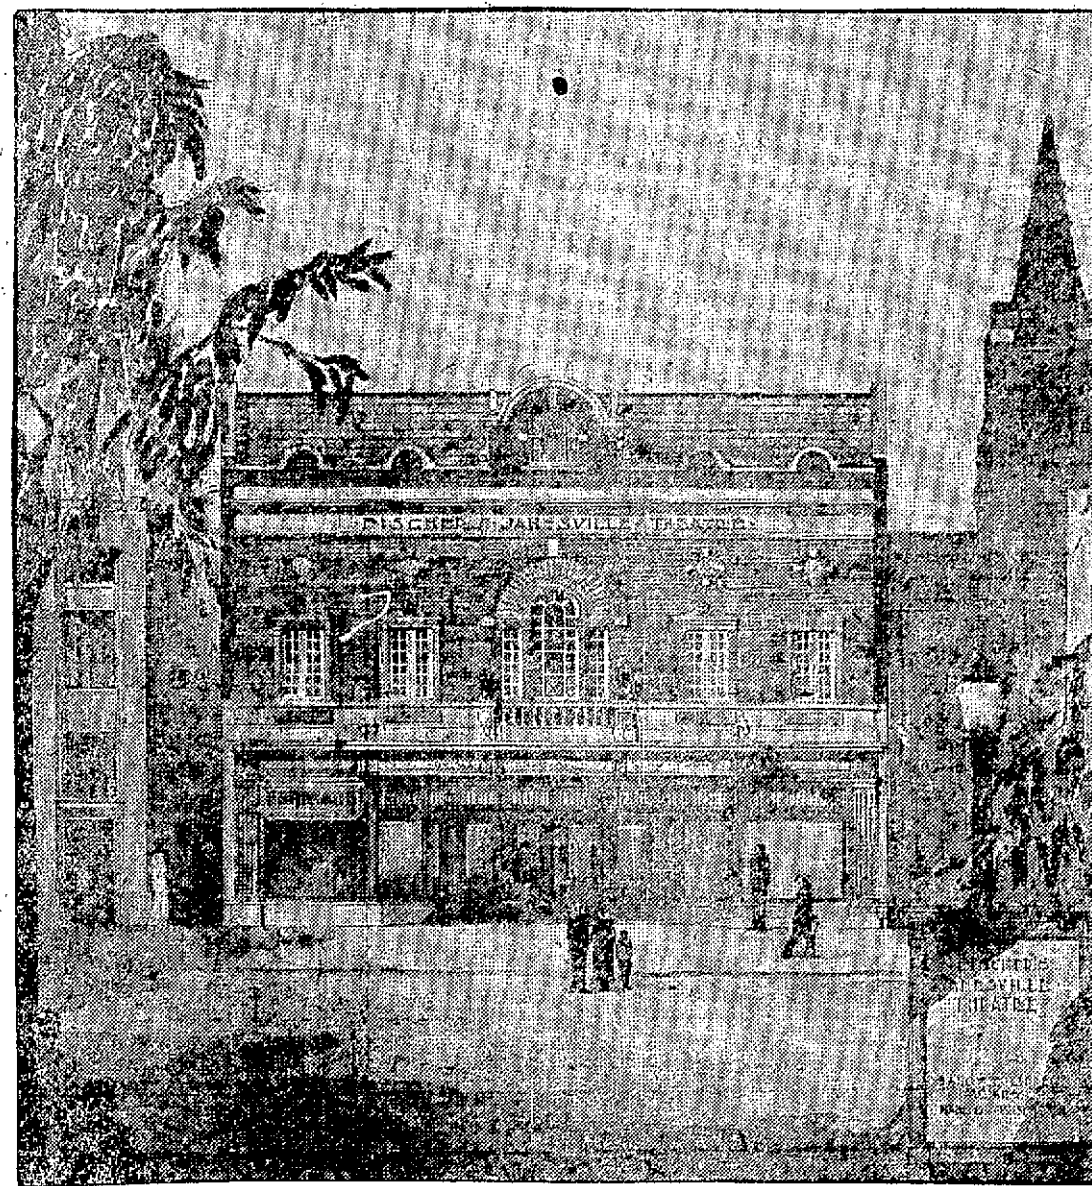

I come from Alabama with my banjo on my knee!"

At the end of the sixth verse Mom had ceased to rock. She had on one side, bird fashion, regarding her niece with fixity. "Play-play Bub-blackberry Bub-blossoms," she commanded.

Dolly played the tune as requested, and without being told, swung into Packington's Pound. She did not know the tune very well. It was one she had discovered the day before in an old ballad book she had rescued from the boys, who were tearing it up for cartridge wadding.

She played the tune twice over. The second time of playing she noted a change in Mom. The latter was grinning foolishly all over her fat face.

THE NEW THEATER FOR JANESVILLE

This is the front elevation of Fischer's Janesville theater started by Harry Jones and sold to the Fischer Paramount theater. The building will be completed and Mr. Fischer announces that he anticipates now an opening on or about March 1. This playhouse which is to seat 1,400 people is located on Franklin street and is easily accessible from every section of the city. It will be the largest playhouse and have the greatest seating capacity of any in the city.

Reactionary Tone Marks N. Y. Stocks During Past Week

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

New York.—Stock prices developed a decidedly reactionary tone in this week's markets. The industrial average breaking through to a new low level for the year. Pivotal stocks held relatively firm all week, the selling pressure being concentrated in the rubbers, leathers, coppers and various specialties. Public interest was again at low ebb, the daily transactions averaging about half a million shares.

Foreign exchanges were heavy in the early part of the week but a sharp recovery set in subsequently. Money rates eased slightly, considerable more time money being available at 5 per cent for maturities of one to three months. Longer rates commanded 6 1/2 per cent, which was the ruling rate for prime commercial paper.

France Faces Problem of Unseaworthy Ships

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Paris.—French freighters of a certain type have earned such a bad reputation among seafaring men, that today sailors are refusing to go to sea on them, while naval authorities declare they should be taken out of service altogether.

Twelve such vessels were built by the government during the war. The holds are clear, with no bilge-boards, with permits the sudden shifting of cargo, and their water ballast tanks have a trick of filling unexpectedly. Five of them already have turned over. The last was the Emile Durand, which rolled over without warning, and drowned 13 members of the crew.

Nevertheless, some sailors are occasionally found, from time to time, who will take a chance, so several of the craft are still at sea.

VILLAGE PLANS TO CARE FOR ITS POOR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

New York.—The citizens of Scarsdale, N. Y., a small residential village on the Hudson River, have formed an organization known as the Scarsdale Foundation "to receive and disburse gifts by him or otherwise for public educational, charitable or benevolent purposes."

The foundation, which will aid all residents of the village who have run up against misfortune, was started by a fund collected for the purpose of caring for the wife and children of Sergeant John J. Harrison, a soldier who lost his life in the World war.

Later a committee of citizens was formed to establish a standing fund for the relief of such cases as might arise.

FAST FLYING IN EUROPE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

London.—A new record for speed between London and Cologne has been made by the Inston Air liner, "City of Washington," which completed the journey of 230 miles in 123 minutes. The boat journey for the same trip takes 19 hours.

BIRTH RATE SLUMPS

Berlin.—Germany's birth rate for the second quarter of 1923 shows a decided decline, according to official figures for 49 German cities. In the corresponding quarter of 1922 there were 75,226 children born, as against 65,224 this year. For the first quarter of 1922 the number of children born was 62,620.

HENRY FORD BUYS MODEL VILLAGE

Pequaming, Mich., Community of Comfortable Homes, Contented Workman.

L'Anse, Mich.—Pequaming, nine miles north of L'Anse, is Henry Ford's town. The highest rent there is $1 a month, electric light and water are furnished at cost, the doctor's bill is never more than $1.50 a month, and fuel incomes are unknown.

The Detroit automobile manufacturer acquired possession of Pequaming recently from Charles Hebard and sons, a pioneer lumberman of the peninsula.

When the town was built in 1877 the owners set about to make it something different from other lumber towns. They wanted a community of comfortable homes and happy, contented workmen. They seemed to think more of the welfare of their employees than they did of the profits of their enterprise.

Rent, $1 a Month.

There are 105 cottages for the workmen, two churches—one Protestant and one Catholic—an amusement hall, a school, a clubhouse, a waterworks and electric lighting plant, a telephone system, a general store, where all residents shop, and a public playground and park.

Each workman pays the same rent—$1 a month. He need never worry about coal, for he burns none. Instead he stuffs his big stove with hardwood from the company's forests, paying $1.75 for a large wagonload—barely the cost of cutting and delivering. A doctor administers to the ills of the community at a charge of $1.00 a month.

The beauty of Pequaming has won frequent comment from tourists. The streets are well shaded, the houses of varying types, and there is a garden with every house. Purchase of the town gives Mr. Ford ownership of Pequaming's only industry, the sawmill property of the Hebard corporation. This includes a large saw mill, lath and shingle mills, and 40,000 acres of land containing 400,000,000 feet of standing timber.

Third Sawmill.

The saw mill is the third purchased by Ford since his invasion of the Upper Peninsula two years ago. The first was at Iron Mountain, now fast becoming an industrial center of the Upper Peninsula, and the second was at L'Anse.

The Pequaming purchase makes the Detroit manufacturer the largest single taxpayer in Baraga, Michigan, now paying about three-fourths of the taxes of the entire county.

Mr. Ford has not announced what policy he will follow at Pequaming, or whether he will continue the Hebard program that has made Pequaming a model town.

PLAN TO ELECTRIFY SWISS RAILROADS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Geneva.—A new water power plant in being constructed in the Alps at an altitude of 6,233 feet near Martigny, Canton of Valais, to supply electric energy to the Swiss federal railways.

A dam is being built across the Barberine cascade, to form an artificial lake of 40,000,000 cubic feet. The cost of the dam will be 20,000,000 Swiss francs. A total energy of 60,000 horsepower will be supplied.

The work will be finished in 1926.

Why Money Was Not Made to Keep

The history of money—"numismatics"—as the technical term goes, is a complete exposition of one of the cardinal features of all currency—and that is the fact that money is a medium of exchange.

Money was not made to keep. It should be put to work for you. Whenever you have any surplus, you should employ it safely in a sound investment. In this way you exchange the services of your money for more money—wages for your dollars.

One of the best jobs you can get for your money is—working for the Wisconsin Power, Light & Heat Co., in the safe, attractive seven per cent shares of this company.

Your money can begin the work by easy stages—on the basis of a small investment of $5.00 the share per month.

Start today and give your money a chance to earn money for you.

BUILD HERDS FOR LIVESTOCK SALES

Demand for Dairy Cows Shows Need of Raising Superior Livestock.

By LEWIS C. FURCH

The two great classes of farmers—the grain farmers and the stock farmers—are shifting. The trend of agriculture in the well established communities, where the grain has been high and growing values, is toward stock farming, especially dairying.

No one could help but be impressed with the demand experienced for clean dairy cows.

Within the last week Rock county dairy stock has been sold to nine different states, and to Central America, and the sales have just started. The problem is not to create a market for the surplus stock at reasonable prices but to locate sufficient cattle that can be sold and labeled with credit coming from this district. The Rock county Farm Bureau, through J. C. Nibbel, has a standing order to fill for three carloads of grade livestock and it was a difficult matter to locate a carload of purebred Holsteins and Milking Shorthorns to send to Central America.

Western States Duty

More than 100 Iowa farmers have been in Rock county, making inspections of the herds here. They left word they wanted a number of carloads. But in each case they demanded stock from accredited herds or herds under state and federal supervision.

Granted Rock county could have the area test and 3,000 farmers of the county would raise surplus dairy cattle to the extent of only 10 animals to the farm, the revenue would easily amount to $3,000,000, for the average value of the dairy cows wanted is approximately $100. The prices of good grades are ranging from $75 to $125, with instances of grades with high C. T. A. records being sold for $150 and even more money. The top price cattle, however, have to carry a good percentage of blood, have perfect type and exceptional production backing. The average price on grades will be around $90 a head.

The value of having an accredited herd is now coming home to the farmers. Cattle from these herds sell at a premium and without trouble in quarantining for test papers. Illinois has passed a regulation that cattle purchased in another state, except from an accredited herd, must be held in quarantine for 60 days after reaching Illinois, and the buyer pays the expense. It is easily understood why Illinois buyers selected accredited stock.

Illinois Standards Here

While Rock county is a leader in the quality of dairy herds in Wisconsin, there is still room for decided improvement. Farmers wait about six times and yet get cattle to their farms with a buyer willing to pay from $80 to $100 a head for grade dairy cows and they haven't an animal to sell that is of the same quality as the Illinois standard. The cattle composed of nondescript cattle that yield neither profit in milk production or as "veal," "canners" or beef.

There is too much inferior stock, and the recent auction sales have proven that it is the good quality stock that pays. The demand for dairy cattle is emphatic and it will be until farmers in states like Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Utah, Nevada, and Colorado are just getting a start in dairying. As they become experienced in dairying they will desire to build their herds. They will want purebreds, superior sires and higher quality grades, for they will learn cheap cows are not the answer. In Southern Wisconsin—the dairy center of Wisconsin—must build toward holding that grade.

Hold Prices Down

There is another angle to the situation in addition to the fact that there is too much inferior stock and that is the reason on the price question. Because there is an active demand, farmers having stock for sale must realize this is no time for "high" prices. The minute farmers have got to over-estimating the value of their stock that demand will cease. It is significant that the farmers who have been obtaining the top prices on grades are those keeping testing association records, and they can show profits on their animals in black and white. The C. T. A. record book is the best salesman in the world. It bears talk by about $20 a head.

A more aggressive breeding operation is better than the one that is needed in Rock county, and for that matter in all other southern Wisconsin counties. It would not be impossible to sell 3,000 head of cattle in a year providing the stock was worth selling and the demand continues. More good purebred bulls should be brought into the county by pools of farmers. Stock for sale should be listed at once, and price standards be fixed according to the grades of animals.

The Livestock Agent

The degree in which Rock county can march forward in the selling of stock depends greatly on the area test question. Once this county is accredited, reactors, located on practically every progressive farmer will engage in the raising of surplus stock, and receive increased milk production through better blood, and feeding and cow testing association work.

In establishing the office of livestock agent, the Rock county Farm Bureau is not primarily concerned with sales. Rather, the bureau is putting Jack Nibbel to work to do what he can to build the quality of herds in this county. Nibbel was given the work of helping farmers in the county locate improved sires and foundation cattle, with the hope that more farmers will have stock to sell in the future. The service is not limited to selling or to the creating of new markets, but mainly to build the livestock industry of the county.

The junior club work will be pushed stronger than ever. For this is the quickest and most effective way of setting higher stock standards. Rock county wants 1,000 boys and girls in club work next year.

The club advisory committee will be called together during November to map out the plans for the club campaign. Meetings are to be held in five different parts of the county to advise boys and girls in the pig clubs how to care for their gilts to be bred for spring farrowing. The calf clubs will not be dropped out but juniors will be encouraged to bring back their animals for this year to the fair next season. New members are wanted.

The County Sales

On Tuesday the Holstein association holds the fall auction sale. A good sale is expected, for a useful lot of good quality cattle has been secured by breeders are called upon to support this sale. There are animals in that sale that will make foundation stock. An inspection of the reference sires shows a number of 1,800 pound bulls and many near the 25-pound mark. Not only will the females make a profit in the production of milk, but they will produce offspring that will sell well.

The three previous sales held in Janesville were fairly successful. The Harvey Little auction was an outstanding sale, not so much in price, but in the general quality of the offering. The truth is coming home that you cannot mix fair animals with top quality animals and realize a good sale or price. But the interesting part of the auction was the number of new buyers coming here to purchase stock.

HOW TO FEED THE LAYING HEN ON BIG POULTRY FARMS

The laying hen is one of the most efficient of machines which we have on the farm and in the backyard today. Did you ever stop to think how this little parcel of flesh, blood and bones was organized to consume more in a year from fifteen to twenty times her own body weight in feed, and from which manufacture one of our most delicate morsels of human food in the nature of eggs, turning out in this process a product from five to ten times her own body weight?

Is not this really a wonderful performance? To do this, the hen must first of all be bred for production. She must be so constituted and her machinery so made and developed that it is her natural tendency to put the great bulk of food which she eats into eggs and not on her back as fat and flesh.

She simply puts enough back into the machine to build up the wear and tear and keep the machine working properly. So it is, then, that one of the most important problems in managing the poultry stock today is the question of food supply, because, after all, the nature of the production varies from day to day, as we see it. It is a problem which gives the poultryman an opportunity to exercise his own ingenuity, and furthermore, it is a problem which is more closely associated with successful production than any other one single problem.

Winter Ration for Layers

Having established the fact that the laying hen is a machine which we feed, and the amounts which we feed are one of the vital problems, let us see just what our feeding practice should be. The poultryman has had an opportunity during the past few months to make an extended trip throughout New England, in the North Atlantic Coast States, studying the prevailing methods and use in feeding layers on commercial poultry farms or farm flocks and in the back lots, and it is surprising what a uniform system of feeding has gradually developed during the past few years.

So uniform has this become, and such excellent results are following its use, that it may possibly be laid down as the most efficient practice under a great variety of conditions. The practice involves, first of all, feeding the layers a well-balanced dry mash, keeping it in hoppers before them all of the time.

For the man with the small flock, a good commercial mash, preferably with buttermilk, laid down on the market as buttermilk laying mash, is satisfactory. For the poultryman mixing large quantities, he can possibly save money and insure uniformity by mixing his own. If he does that, the following is the ration which is most generally used throughout the country: 100 pounds wheat bran, 100 pounds corn, 100 pounds corn meal, 100 pounds gluten, 100 pounds meat scraps.

This mash mixture, given a good variety, is palatable and contains the right amount of animal protein and is economical. Supplementing this dry mash mixture with the general practice is to feed the birds a scratch grain ration at least twice a day, morning and night, feeding them from one-quarter to one-third of the total amount given in the morning, and the larger feeding in the late afternoon; the idea being to fill the birds' crops full of grain before they go out to peck at night.

A good commercial laying scratch is satisfactory here. When one plans to do his own mixing, a good formula is two parts of cracked corn, one of wheat and one of oats. The successful attendant upon the use of these two basic formulas depends not only upon having the right mixture but having them fed in the proper proportion.

So it is that the general recommendation and practice is to feed the layers from twelve to fourteen pounds of grain per 100 birds per day and then, with the mash before them constantly, they will eat sufficient amounts of each ration to keep their entire diet balanced. Birds are naturally granivorous; they will eat grain in preference to mash.

If the grain is increased or decreased one can regulate the relative amounts of each which are consumed. It is not a hard practice to feed some of the above mentioned dry mash moistened with skim milk or semi-solid buttermilk once each day, mixing it to a crumbly consistency and feeding with a bird will eat in about ten or fifteen minutes, giving it to them in open troughs.

Such a ration is exceptionally palatable and results in getting more eggs building material into the hens. Of all, do not forget that plenty of water is essential for satisfactory egg production, so keep the drinking vessels filled constantly, and then with plenty of grit, shell and charcoal in hoppers where the birds can have access to it, we have practically completed the daily diet of a winter layer.

If you have a little cabbage, mangle beats, or some germinated oats to feed along with the basic grain ration, it is a big help. Do not expect from the hen in the way of eggs more than you put into her in the way of food.

BUTTER SCORING CONTESTS HAVE AIDED

Madison—Butter scoring contests conducted by the dairy department of the University of Wisconsin have done much to improve the quality of Wisconsin butter, in the opinion of officials of the college of agriculture. It is reported by specialists that the quality of butter in the state has been improving steadily for the past 15 years.

Interest in the butter scoring contests of the college is increasing, according to E. H. Farrington, head of the dairy department. The scoring is done on samples submitted by the creamery men. The samples are analyzed as to fat, curd, salt, and moisture content. A report of the analysis, score and comments is sent back to the contestant.

PROPOSE CHANGES IN GRADING WIS. POOL TOBACCO

Several proposed changes are expected in the grading of Wisconsin tobacco. The Wisconsin Co-operative Tobacco Pool, Inc., is the plan of John Holten, warehouse manager, to meet the many complaints of growers as to the quality of the tobacco. The pool is a uniform method of handling tobacco when putting it in the bundle.

Frozen tobacco will cause the pool some trouble and an effort will be made to give every grower full instructions before the stripping season.

The decision of the Wisconsin supreme court in the Belknap injunction case is not expected until Nov. 18.

made a decided hit with the crowd. He was fairly well versed in Shorthorn pedigrees and has a rapid-fire line of remarks.

"It is getting so that all a farmer has to do is buy a Ford, join the Klu Klux Klan and buy a Shorthorn bull," declared Jones. In pleading with a prospective buyer to raise a young bull, Jones came back with this one: "Got your winter's supply of hard coal in mind? This bull and you'll be all fixed—don't lose the bull!" He got the bid.

FEEDING MANY SHEEP

Thousands of sheep are being fattened in Rock county this year. More than 10,000 sheep have been pastured out around Evansville, and in other districts small flocks have been added for winter feeding.

Semi-Annual Fall Sale—Quality Consignment

ROCK COUNTY HOLSTEIN BREEDERS
County Pavilion-Fair Grounds, Janesville Wis.
Oct. 30 --TUESDAY-- Oct. 30
(10 A. M.)

75 Head Selected Holstein The Sale Offering

45 Cows and Heifers, either fresh or due to freshen right at sale time, including a large number of A. R. O. cows and cows with good cow testing association records. A lot of good, clean young cows sired by and bred to bulls whose dams have seven-day records up to 44 lbs., and yearly records up to 1127 lbs.

15 Yearlings and Senior Calf Heifers, all splendid individuals with good A. R. O. backing.

15 Bulls, old enough for service, (not a scrub in the lot.) Good individuals, most of them from good record dams and including a line bred Homestead bull consigned by the Fred Pabst Holstein Farm at Oconomowoc.

The cattle offered include many that have been prize winners at the Wisconsin State Fair and the leading county fairs in Southern Wisconsin. Rock County Holstein breeders are proud of this offering. Of all the sales up to date, this is by far the best lot we ever offered and this is a real opportunity for dairymen and breeders to buy foundation stock.

To the Holstein Breeders of Rock County and all Others Interested in Holstein Cattle:

The Rock County Holstein Breeders Ass'n. has been organized for about two years. It is a good, live organization with over one hundred members. The officers and directors work without any salary or pay of any kind and during the past two years have given a great deal of their time and best thought to pushing the Holstein cattle industry in Rock County. The results speak as to what has been accomplished by their work. One of the objects of the Association is to hold semi-annual sales and the coming Fall sale will be held at Janesville in the livestock pavilion on the Fair Grounds at 11 o'clock on Tuesday, October 30th.

The Sale Committee has personally inspected every one of the 76 animals in the sale. They are selling 23 cows, 13 three-year-old heifers, 12 two-year-old heifers, 13 yearling and senior heifer calves and 15 good, young bulls all of serviceable age or nearly so.

The Sale Committee assures us that this is by far the best lot of cattle ever offered at public sale in southern Wisconsin.

We believe Holstein breeders and others interested in promoting the industry all ought to take a day off and attend the coming sale in order to show the Rock County Holstein Breeders Association and its officers that you appreciate the time and effort they are spending in your behalf and we wish to take this opportunity to urge all interested in Holstein cattle to attend the sale.

Even if you do not buy, it is nice to see you there. Boost your own business and be present at the sale.

Yours very truly,

H. C. Hemmingway, Secretary,
The Rock County Farm Bureau.
R. T. Glasco, County Agent.

JANESVILLE MEN HONORED IN EAST

National Church Council Nominates Whitehead for Highest Office.

John M. Whitehead, one of the delegates to the National Council of Congregationalists held at Springfield, Mass., during the past week, was nominated for the highest honor which the church grants—that of moderator—or president of the body. It was the precedent that a layman should be selected for every alternate meeting, but this was broken this year and resulted in the choice of a clergyman, Dr. R. H. Potter, Hartford, Conn.

So far as is known this is the first time a layman has been nominated for this position. The place was held for two years, until a new officer is chosen at the beginning of the next session which will be held Calvin Coolidge was elected honorary moderator.

Placed on Committees.

The Rev. F. J. Scribner, the ex-delegate from this city, was placed on the commission on recruiting for Christian service, and Assemblyman A. E. Matheson, who did not attend, on the commission on the episcopate.

Other delegates from this county were E. G. Smith and the Rev. A. H. Studebaker, Beloit; A. J. O. W. Smith, Evansville.

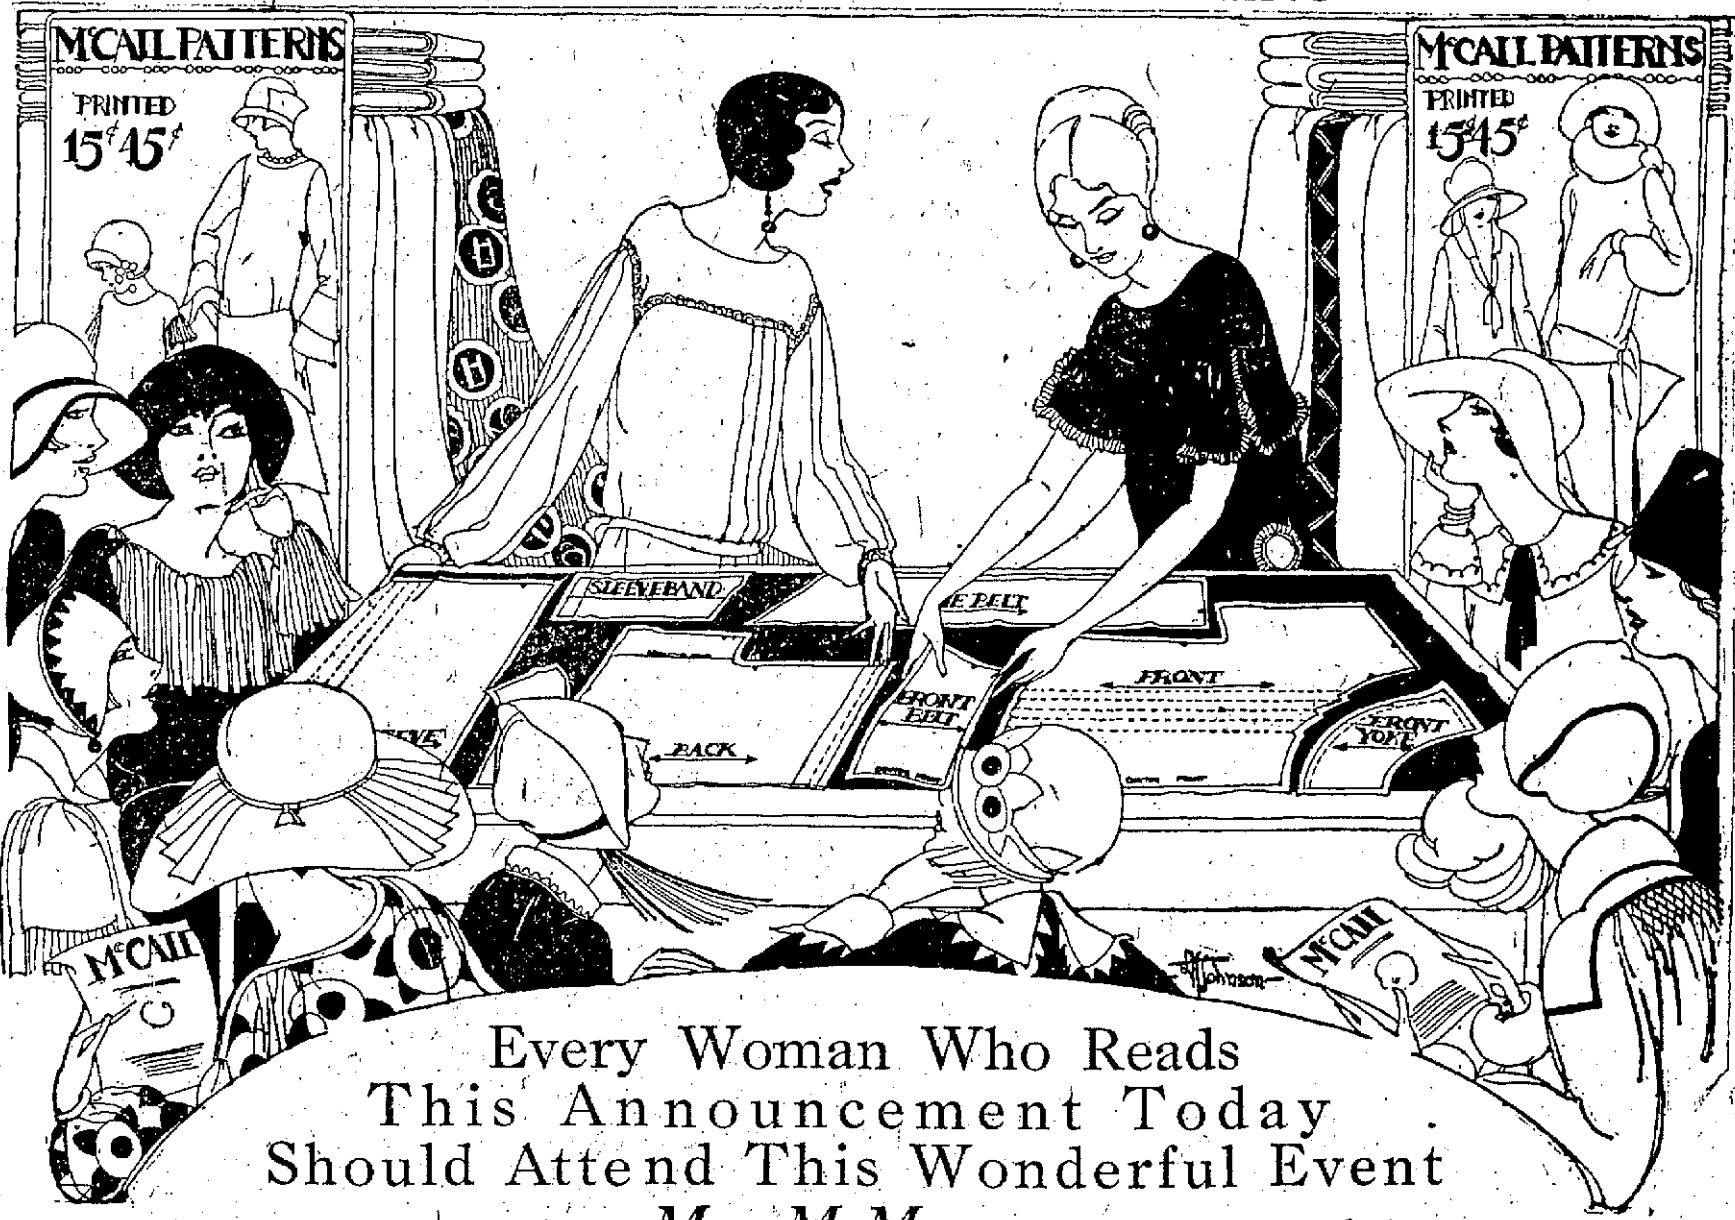

Oppose American Isolation.

Rev. Mr. Scribner stated that the general sentiment of the delegates

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meinel attended the annual Thursday supper given by the Lutheran ladies' society of Helenville, Thursday night.

Five Passenger Four-Cylinder Touring Car
The Standard of Comparison

A Car of Greater Utility

Thoroughly representative of the 1924 Buicks, this four-cylinder, five passenger Touring Car is new from end to end. Its new body, frame, fenders and radiator—its new Buick valve-in-head engine—its four-wheel brakes, all exemplify Buick's policy of building into its cars greater utility and satisfaction with each succeeding year.

The minute attention to those details that make for greater comfort and convenience is well expressed in the new windshield, new ventilator operated by a push lever, wide, low and tilted seats and compactly grouped instruments. This Buick four-cylinder Touring Car worthily maintains the Buick reputation—Standard of Comparison.

How to Prepare Your Car for the Cold Weather

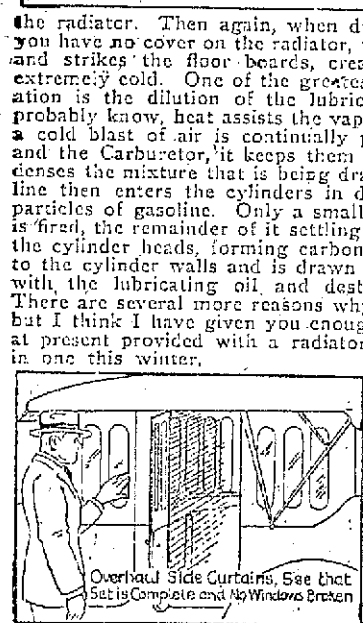

Burned out bearings and scored cylinder walls are a possibility during the freezing weather, if you neglect the precaution of draining the old oil out of the crank case at least once every 500 miles. The reason for this is, that during the cold weather there is considerable moisture in the air, which is drawn into the crank case through the oil breather pipe. This moisture, immediately it strikes the hot walls inside the crank case, condenses, with the result that it is not long before quite an amount of water collects at the bottom of the crank case. During the summer, this water cannot do a great deal of damage, but when the zero weather arrives, it is liable to cause very severe damage.

Water Collects at Bottom of Crank Case and is Liable to Freeze Around Oil Pump—See That Oil is Drained Every 500 Miles

This water collects at the lowest point in the crank case and it is at this point that the oil pump is located. When the motor is standing idle, this water naturally settles at the bottom of the oil pump and freezes the pump mechanism, together or freezes around the bottom of the oil pipe, so preventing the pump from drawing up any oil. When you go to start up the engine, as the pump gear and casing is frozen, something has to go, and either the pump shaft breaks or the gear is stripped, with the result that the oil in the crankcase is not circulated, and in a very short space of time you have a very bad case of burned bearings and scored cylinder walls, damage that may cost you anything up to $150.00 to repair.

For the cold weather, use a slightly lighter grade of lubricating oil in the crank case than you have been using during the summer. If the oil is too heavy, it does not start circulating fast enough, with the result that some parts of the engine do not get properly lubricated until the engine warms up and thins out the heavy oil. Consult the chart issued by one of the large oil companies, and use the grade of oil they recommend for your make of car for winter driving. A cover for the radiator is not an absolute necessity, but is one of the things that will soon save you its small cost and will also add considerably to your comfort when driving during the cold weather. If you have no cover for the radiator, the engine takes considerable time to warm up on account of the cold air being drawn through the radiator. You can warm up the engine in half the time by buttoning up the radiator cover, so preventing the cold air being drawn through the radiator. Then again, when driving during the zero weather, if you have no cover on the radiator, the cold air is drawn right through and strikes the floor boards, creating a draft that keeps the feet extremely cold. One of the greatest enemies to efficient engine operation is the dilution of the lubricating oil with gasoline. As you probably know, heat assists the vaporization of gasoline. If, however, a cold blast of air is continually passing over the intake manifold and the carburetor, it keeps them cold, and to a certain extent condenses the mixture that is being drawn into the cylinders. The gasoline then enters the cylinders in drops, instead of finely broken up particles of gasoline. Only a small proportion of this coarse mixture is fired, the remainder of it settling on the tops of the pistons and on the cylinder heads, forming carbon, while the balance of it strikes the cylinder walls and is drawn down into the crank case, mixing with the lubricating oil, and destroying its lubricating properties. There are several more reasons why you should use a radiator cover, but I think I have given you enough to prove that if your car is not at present provided with a radiator cover, it will pay you to invest in one this winter.

Use a radiator cover during cold weather

During the summer the side curtains are rarely used, and at different periods during the year are shifted around, or perhaps taken out of the car, and very often sections get lost in this way. If they are left in the car, they are sometimes put in the same compartment where wrenches and various tools are carried, which damage the celluloid windows. Now is the time to get out the side curtains, and fit them to see that you have a complete set, and also to examine them to see that no windows are broken. Most drivers never think of looking at their curtains until they are urgently in need of them, then to their astonishment, find that some of the curtains are missing. Don't take any risks; get out your curtains now; see that they are complete, and if they require repairing, have it done now before the run starts in.

Cut this article out and paste it on the wall of your garage to remind you what you have to do to get your car ready for the cold weather.

Plan No. 1775

This typical chalet home plan of more than ordinary attractiveness will, if given careful consideration, make strong appeals for its adoption. Simplicity and straight lines dominate in the exterior construction, which shows stucco finish, but would look equally as well with siding or shingled walls.

A careful study of the interior arrangement will show compactness of rooms, modern conveniences with window arrangements that permit of maximum sunlight and ventilation.

What is the underlying thought of the girl and boy very early in life when they play house—the boy piecing together some boards for a cabin or draping old carpets on poles for a tent in which they arrange crude furniture and imaginary people?

It is the subconscious ambition for a HOME of his own or her own, born into their very souls and under proper influences and environment will remain there until satisfied by a real Livable, Lovable home. Deep down in the heart of the young man or woman passing out of childhood's domain what is that primal desire to possess a home. It is with thoughts of congenial unrestricted home life that young men and women should make themselves attractive to one another, in the hope of finding a fit mate for that home that is to be.

Home is not merely a place in which to eat and sleep but a paradise where loving hearts can enjoy the beautiful things of life in safety and harmony and children be privileged to retain those in-born desires without ignoble influences.

Home ownership represents determination, strong will power on the part of those who make it a reality. In the case of a man's income not being large, or the wife's early teaching as to economy and thrift not being exercised, there is that temptation, "let things drift along" the road of least resistance and be satisfied to dwell in a rented house rather than save for the future by practicing self-denial for a few years.

Increasing numbers of young people are resisting the lure of this specious thought and are turning their faces successward by acquiring THEIR OWN HOME. Think of the joy that comes to the hearts of father, mother and children when they take possession of their own home. It's the most wonderful feeling that we are privileged of experiencing, and the artist has furnished the inspiration in his picture above. Suppose you finish it by imagining what father is saying as he points proudly to the place where the home nest is to be, without fear of dispossession notices. What is the wife saying as her happy face is turned in the same direction and her dancing eyes reveal the ecstasy within her heart? Or daughter, with her dolly—What is she thinking and saying as she dances up and down? Isn't she urging father and mother to "Hurry up and let's go in"?

What are you doing to bring the dream of your whole lifetime thus far to fruition? Are you seeking the FULFILLMENT OF LIFE'S GREATEST AMBITION by the attainment of HOME OWNERSHIP?

It may not be easy, but it is never as difficult as you think. The family who aspires to home ownership is encouraged and assisted on every hand. The land owner grants time, if you wish. The material dealer puts his choicest wares into the home. The contractor is ten times more careful when building a HOME than when putting up merely "rent houses". And there are architects who are putting all their skill and thought into the designing of real homes for you to enjoy.

This is but another evidence of service made possible through the co-operation and support of the following representative business firms who are responsible for this weekly forward movement Home Building Campaign.

FT. ATKINSON M. E. CHURCH

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Fort Atkinson—Fort Atkinson Methodist church had its beginning in 1837 when the old Aztalan circuit was organized by the Illinois conference. The first class in Fort Atkinson was organized in the winter of 1839 and 1840 by Rev. H. W. Frink at the home of Jesse P. Beck who was living on the farm owned by S. A. Rice. The members of this class were Jesse P. Beck, Betsy Roberts, Franklin Roberts, Sarah Roberts, Martha Fallow and two or three others.

Meetings at Homes.
After the class was organized, meetings were held at the homes of the settlers and on special occasions under the forest trees, in barns, or any place that was large enough to accommodate the worshipers. For some time the meetings were held in a cooper shop that stood not far from where the Lyric Theater now is.

In 1844 a school house was built, and the Methodists took turns with the other churches in using it. On Feb. 11, 1850, the following resolution was passed: "Resolved that we build a meeting house for the Methodist Episcopal church in the village of Fort Atkinson, 35 feet by 46 feet, with 15 feet posts."

The building was finished in 1852. Rev. T. C. Hollister was the first pastor with $400.00 yearly salary. In 1874 under the pastorate of S. C. Thomas the old windows of 7 glass were taken out and new ones of stained glass were put in. The audience room was frescoed and papered, the improvements costing about $700.

The present church building was built during the pastorate of J. J. Hartley in 1892. In 1909, when Rev. E. W. Mager was pastor, a dining room, kitchen and rest room were built in the basement of the church.

During the present year the church has been remodeled and enlarged so that the congregation has a building fully equipped to do efficient work. There is a church membership of 531, a Sunday school membership of 478.

The Pastor, Rev. C. A. Rootz, a graduate of Willamette University, Oregon and of Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Illinois, holding a B. D. degree from Willamette, and an M. A. degree from Northwestern University. He was a student pastor at Salem, Wisconsin for 4 years, pastor at Lake Mills one year, and is serving his second year at Fort Atkinson. Mr. and Mrs. Rootz are uniting workers and are largely through their efforts that the church has been brought to completion. The church will be rededicated Sunday, October 28.

AERIAL HIGHWAY OPEN TO TRAFFIC

Chicago—The first extensive aerial highway system in the country is now open to airplane traffic from Washington to Detroit, a report of the National Transportation Institute, submitted to a meeting here to consider the future of aeronautics, shows.

This roadway of the air extends from Washington to West Virginia, to Dayton into Cleveland, to Detroit, back to Ohio, to the Chanute field and Dayton.
It is being used as an experimental air route, to obtain valuable data to be used in establishing air highways through other sections of the country, the report brought out.

VELIE

Every time we sell a car we make a friend

Velie Model 58 Touring Car with perfectly fitted plate glass winter enclosure

Closed Car Comfort at Open Car Cost

Here is the all-season touring car — for the motorist whose preference leans toward the light roadability of the open model — at a cost but slightly above the regular touring car price.

Handsome, as an integral part of the car, as opposed to the makeshift "winter top."

Precisely fitted, giving the complete protection of a closed car from cold or stormy weather.

Quickly applied or removed. It is a simple matter to change from open to closed model, or vice versa, in fifteen minutes. You have two cars in one.

Ventilating Windows. The top half of the four door-windows drop down for whatever amount of ventilation is desired.

Perfect Vision, sides, front and rear through the generous expanse of glass.

$1375 f.o.b. factory. Here is the double advantage of both the closed and open car, to the man who had planned on a touring car only — mounted on the remarkable Velie chassis with its powerful and economical Velie-built motor. Bear in mind, this Winter Enclosure is in addition to the regular complete storm curtain equipment.

Let us show you this car today.
